CITY MANAGER IS COUNCIL'S AGENT NOT CITY TYRANT

Important New Attitude Distinguishes 1916 Convention of Municipal Experts

NOT YET FINISHED SCIENCE

Practical Men at Meeting Comparatively Outnumbered by Theoretical-minded

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Nov. 21.—(By Mail.)—That the real "city manager," as he is being developed by the science he is himself creating, is but the administrative agent of a group of citizens holding elective office, as a board or commission, answerable directly to the people, is perhaps the most important new thought that distinguishes the national convention of city managers for 1916 from that of the previous year.

Kinsloe from Washington

The several meetings today were attended by James R. Kinsloe, executive secretary of the La Crosse Chamber of Commerce, and A. M. Brayton, editor of the La Crosse TRIBUNE. R. B. Gelatt, editor of the Leader-Press, who also was selected as a delegate of the Chamber, was unable to attend. Secretary Kinsloe arrived this morning from Washington, D. C., where he had attended a meeting of the national council of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, called for discussion of important prospective or pending legislation. This is "Municipal Week" in Springfield, which groups together the conventions of nine organizations devoted to civic activities and enterprises. The La Crosse delegates are credited to the convention of the National Municipal league, but are unofficially participating in the meetings of the other groups incident thereto.

Discuss Charter Changes

Tuesday's important meetings, numbering ten in all, featured various phases of experience of city managers. That in which were discussed "Legal Difficulties in the Establishment of New Charters" was perhaps of most interest to La Crosse, where a new charter is being discussed. As these difficulties arise largely from the conflict of state laws with the local ideas of city government, no hard and fast remedies could be laid down, but the essential lesson was that only by starting at the bottom and establishing the right foundation in state legislation, can a satisfactory basis be secured. Other valuable discussions were, "Best Methods of Keeping Cost Records," and "Getting Proper Constructive Publicity." "What City Managers Can Do to Further Advance Good Government," was the subject of an interesting "round table" at a 6 o'clock dinner.

Perhaps the idea which most vigorously impressed itself upon the visitor new to the organization was the fact that the city manager plan, although it has passed the purely experimental stage and has justified the verdict that its results and promise transcend those of the commission and all other forms of municipal government, lacks much of being a finished science. In relation to it there are many divergencies of opinion and debatable ideas, and the meetings here appear to have substantial value as means of comparison of actual experiences whereby, through adoption and elimination, the sounder policies involved shall survive.

Among the delegates are several practical men of a high order of attainment, but the comparatively larger number whose ideas seem largely academic, suggests the freshman class room and conveys a notion that a system of government which has survived their administration must indeed be sustained by sound values. That the constructive work of those who lead must be the salvation of many novices, seems apparent.

Must be Council Agent

The most important idea developed today comes in answer to the challenge that a city manager must, of necessity, develop too much of the one-man idea in government. The prevailing interpretation, as advanced by the best managers, is that the successful manager must be an obedient administrative agent of the city council, one upon whose trained expert knowledge the council can depend in an advisory capacity, but whose tact and sense of proportion confines him to the modest but efficient performance of duties as outlined by the concensus of judgment of the body to whom his counsel is given.

BELIEVE CRONES FOUND

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—A man believed to be Jean Crones, whom the police are hunting in connection with the poison soup incident at the University club here several months ago, was arrested in Spaulding, Neb., Thursday.

Crones, employed as a cook at the club, is said by police to have poisoned the soup at a banquet at which Archbishop Mundelein was the speaker. Scores were made ill, but no one died.

JACK LONDON DIES SUDDENLY ON HIS CALIFORNIA RANCH

Noted American Novelist and Adventurer Dead of Uraemia After Short Illness on Glenellen Farm

WAS BECOMING WEALTHY

It Is Estimated London Annually Made $53,000 from His Writings, Not Including Motion Picture Rights

SANTA ROSA, Cal., Nov. 23.—Jack London, noted American novelist and adventurer, died Wednesday night at his Glenellen home.

His death was sudden. Wednesday morning when his Japanese valet went to awaken his master he found London unconscious in bed at his Glenellen estate near here. Physicians were summoned who declared the author was suffering from a touch of ptomaine poisoning or acute indigestion. London was roused with difficulty but recovered consciousness before noon and then appeared to be recovering rapidly.

This was only a temporary strength, however, and London soon lost consciousness again, never reviving before death, which occurred at 7:45. Attending physicians say he died from a gastro-intestinal type of uraemia.

Body to be Cremated

Without ceremony of any kind the body will be cremated at noon Friday at the Oakland crematory.

No minister or priest will pronounce a benediction, no prayers will be said, no choir will sing a requiem.

Believing that death ends all and that there is no hereafter, London often said that when he died he wished to be cremated and buried without ostentation. His wishes will be carried out. Only his wife, daughters and sister will accompany the body to the crematory. His mother, Mrs. Flora London, is seriously ill in her Oakland home and has not been informed of her son's death.

Income $53,000

London's secretary estimated on Thursday that the novelist's income from his writings at the time of his death averaged about twenty cents a word. He habitually wrote 1,000 words a day and this would make his annual income from new literary work about $53,000 a year.

So far as the secretary knows, London's only finished work which has not been published are two novels, two short dog stories and several Hawaiian stories. Arrangements for publication of these have been concluded. At the time of his death London was working on a novel of Hawaiian life called "Cherry," which was well advanced. It is understood Mrs. London either will complete the novel herself or will engage some other writer to complete it.

London spent large sums on his Glenellen ranch and he often made the remark that he had to write stories to pay the expenses of his farm.

EMPEROR CHARLES EXERCISES FIRST POWERS OF RULER

Successor to Franz Josef Confirms Appointment of Ministers Made by His Grand Uncle

VIENNA MOURNS DEEPLY

Entire City Shrouded in National Colors and Streamers of Black; Body Lies in Hofburg Castle

LONDON, Nov. 23. — Emperor Charles VIII of Austria-Hungary—new ruler in the palace where until Tuesday sat the aged Franz Josef—exercised his first powers as sovereign on Thursday. He issued orders confirming appointment of all of the ministers which his grand uncle had established in power.

Vienna dispatches also said he had issued the following manifesto:

"Our aim has not yet been achieved. The enemies' illusion of their ability to overthrow my monarchy and those of my allies is as yet not shattered. I know I am in harmony with my people in my unbending decision to continue the struggle until peace is assured and the monarchy's existence and development assured. I will do all in my power to banish as soon as possible the horrors and sacrifices of war and to secure peace as soon as the honor of my arms, the conditions of the life of my countries and their allies and the defiance of my enemies will allow."

Waive Old Ceremonies

Vienna will not parade her sorrow nor welcome in marking formal observance of the funeral of Emperor Franz Josef and the assumption of the throne by his successor, Charles Francis Joseph. Dispatches from Vienna indicated Thursday that departure would be made from the rigidly formal and richly ceremonial customs which heretofore have marked the passing of one sovereign and the ascending to the throne of another. The pall of war will hang over even the pall of sorrow.

Date for the interment of the remains of Emperor Franz Josef has not yet been fixed, but it will probably take place next Thursday. Vienna was literally wrapped in a shroud Thursday. The city's mourning for those lost in the war was intensified by universal sorrow for the late emperor. Mingling with the half-masted national colors were great streamers of black. The great columns of the municipal and state buildings were wrapped in the mourning badge and their fronts all but covered with the pall.

Body at Hofburg Castle

The emperor's body will lie in state at the Hofburg—the imperial palace in Vienna,—a building the aged emperor never liked and which he never occupied except on formal state occasions, preferring the beautiful Schoenbrunn palace, in Schoenbrunn park, where he was born.

From the Hofburg the late sovereign's body will be carried through Vienna's narrow streets three short blocks to the church of the Capucius for interment. Ordinarily this funeral parade would have been a ceremonial full of pomp and color—but Vienna dispatches indicated that on this occasion, the cortege and its escorts would be of the simplest possible form.

To Call Him Kaiser?

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 23.—Charles Francis Joseph, new ruler of Austro-Hungary, will be proclaimed "Kaiser und Koenig Karl the First," according to German newspapers received here.

Reports from Vienna said arrival of Kaiser Wilhelm and Czar Ferdinand of Bulgaria was expected at Vienna Thursday. The crown prince of Turkey, sent as the Ottoman empire's representative at the funeral of the Emperor Franz Josef, is expected within two or three days.

Protests Belgian Deportation?

ROME, Nov. 23.—A report current in Switzerland has it that on his death-bed Emperor Franz Josef complied with Pope Benedict's recent plea to him and messaged the kaiser, urging against the Belgian deportation scheme and resumption of unlimited submarine warfare.

STAY CITY FUNDS FOR CATHOLIC INSTITUTIONS

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—Appropriations amounting to $253,000 made by the Cook county board for nine Catholic charitable institutions are held up pending the outcome of injunction proceedings Thursday to prevent payment of the money.

William H. Dunn, representing the Guardians of Liberty, alleges that contributions to the support of religious institutions are unconstitutional. The money was to be used to care for wards of the juvenile court assigned to Catholic institutions.

Archbishop Mundelein is one of the principal witnesses.

BUILDING FALLS—ONE DEAD

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—One man was killed and six injured Thursday when a three story building, in course of construction at Sixty-fourth street and Third avenue collapsed.

BELIEVE RUMANIAN ARMY HAS ESCAPED VISE OF GERMANS

Bucharest Statement Indicates Army Has Ducked Under Encircling Army of von Falkenhayn

TEUTONS TO BE DIVERTED?

Hope Expressed Allies' Serrail Drive Beyond Monastir May Cause Weakening of Teutons in Rumania

BUCHAREST, Nov. 23.—In its second official statement of the day, the war office declared Thursday Rumanian troops after powerful artillery preparation attacked and occupied Mount Toaca and Poiana Marcine, capturing an enemy machine gun and repulsing a counter-attack.

LONDON, Nov. 23.—The Rumanian official statement, issued Thursday after two days' silence at Bucharest, in the face of sweeping German claims of "bottling up" of the Rumanian army, served to increase the hopes that the forces of the Balkan kingdom in the Jiul valley at least had ducked from under the encircling arm of General von Falkenhayn's troops.

The Rumanian statement did not concede loss to the Germans of Craiova but it did announce a retirement westward from the Wallachian city.

A stiffening of the Rumanian resistence was also seen in the statements reporting that the lines in the Alt valley had been maintained.

The retirement westward from Craiova mentioned in the statement would appear to mean that these forces are swinging to the side of Orsova defenders.

Military experts pointed out that the logical section from which troops would be drawn in reinforcement of retreating German-Bulgarian army north of Monastir would be from General von Falkenhayn's Austro-Hungarian-German forces responsible for the sweep into Rumania. For this reason they were gratified with the continued northward progress reported achieved by General Serrail's allied forces now operating out of the newly captured Monastir.

Berlin statements have acknowledged reinforcements of the army opposing this advance. But if the Serbian-French-Russian-Italian drive continues with as much success, experts here look for further and greater withdrawals of German troops diverted to the German-Bulgarian troops' aid, probably from Von Falkenhayn's forces. Any considerable diversion of his forces would certainly weaken his offensive, possibly in sufficient measure to permit of a successful stand by the Rumanians and escape from the jaws of the German vise. The Serbs have now reached a point twenty-five miles east of Monastir.

Bucharest Admits Retirement

BUCHAREST, Nov. 23.—"We retired westward from Craiova." Thursday's official Rumanian war office statement announced.

Retirement from points in the Jiul valley to old positions was also stated. In the Alt valley the statement declared that Rumanian troops were maintaining their positions.

Capture Railroad Cars

BERLIN, via Sayville, Nov. 23.—Two hundred railroad cars were among the booty which Austro-German troops captured at Craiva, Rumania, according to the war office statement Thursday. It is said the situation in Wallachia was "unchanged."

Haig Reports Artillerying

LONDON, Nov. 23.—General Sir Douglas Haig reported German artillery firing during the night on both sides of the Ancre and also in the neighborhood of Hebuterne, in today's statement.

Say British Attacks Fail

BERLIN, via Sayville Wireless, Nov. 23.—British attacks north of Guedecourt and assaults by the French against the northwest edge of St. Pierre Vaast wood failed Wednesday night according to Thursday's war office statement.

ZEEBRUGGE IS RAIDED BY 'PLANES

LONDON, Nov. 23.—A successful air raid against German hydroplanes and naval forces at Zeebrugge was announced in an admiralty statement Thursday.

Wednesday it was declared, naval aeroplanes dropped bombs over the seaplane sheds at the Belgian port, now held by the Germans, and also on German destroyers anchored alongside the Mole.

A destroyer was hit and the sheds damaged by the bombs.

CONFERENCE ADJOURNS

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 23.—The conference of railroad officials and government representatives adjourned early Thursday afternoon without reaching an agreement as to whether the injunction suit brought by the Missouri, Oklahoma and Gulf railroad should be only a test case in the Adamson eight-hour law to go to the United States supreme court.

DON'T MISS MARKET DAY

FRIDAY morning will see the big offensive in La Crosse against the high cost of living, when consumers and producers will get together under the "big top" on the market square without the agency of middlemen. The event should prove most welcome to every householder in La Crosse. It holds out the promise of produce fresh and unadulterated for those to whom price is a matter of small moment. For those to whom economy is one of the stern virtues of necessity in this era of soaring prices, it offers an unparalleled opportunity.

Mrs. Householder, Mr. Farmer—you can divide the middleman's profit "fifty-fifty" when you meet under the big tent.

WEATHER CAN'T HURT MARKET DAY SUCCESS DECLARES CHAIRMAN

Here's a tip to the wise housewife, furnished on the authority of Dr. H. C. Evenson, chairman of the agricultural bureau of the Chamber of Commerce:

GET TO THE MARKET EARLY.

Indications all point to the fact that the sleepy bird Friday morning will have a greatly depleted stock of worms to select from. Alert housewives from practically every section of the city have arranged to be under the big tent shortly after breakfast, and their numbers are such, the bureau states, that late comers will miss a whole lot.

The market, it is expected, will be in full blast by 8 o'clock in the morning, although farmers coming in from the more distant sections will probably bring some loads of desirable truck later in the morning. In any event, it is believed, the best of the opportunity offered will be gone by noon.

Even this unpleasant weather won't spoil the market experiment, Dr. Evenson said on Thursday morning. "Short of a blizzard, we'll have so many farmers and so many consumers getting in touch with each other by the direct, personal route that Market Square will look like an orderly riot was in progress.

"The bureau has personal assurance from more than a score of farmers that they intend to bring in big quantities of desirable produce of all kinds, and we regard the participation of La Crosse housewives as not even a question for argument. They are coming with their baskets on their arms, afoot, by street car or in their automobiles.

"I predict that some of the most prominent women in La Crosse in social and club circles, will be among the first to arrive on the scene. They have become greatly interested in the market plan, and most of them are awake to the necessity of being 'early birds.'"

The big tent under which the market will be held was ready for business Thursday afternoon.

LOCAL TROOPS TO BE HOME ON FIFTH SAYS GEN. HOLWAY

Get Under Way for Fort Sheridan from Texas at Noon on Thursday.

TO REACH THERE SUNDAY

Ten Days Will Be Required to Complete the Muster-out Is Estimate of the State Commander

La Crosse soldiers will be home December 5, according to the statement of Adjutant General Orlando B. Holway at his office in Madison on Thursday. The troops left San Antonio at noon Thursday, General Holway said, according to advices received by him.

The soldiers entrained with all equipment for Fort Sheridan, twenty miles north of Chicago on Lake Michigan. They will reach the comfortable barracks at that post some time on Sunday, General Holway said.

The details of mustering the Third regiment out of federal service will require about ten days, in the ordinary routine, the state commander declared. He said that he expected the soldiers will be returned to their homes on December 5.

Their equipment will be brought back with them, and turned over to the state again.

GETS THIRTY YEARS FOR THIRTY MURDERS

RECIFE, Brazil, Nov. 23.—Thirty years in prison was the sentence imposed on Antonio Silvino, a bandit who terrorized the border of three states for more than twenty years, by the court in session in this city. Silvino had thirty specific murder charges arrayed against him when he was finally captured by the federal police after a pitched battle with the bandit and his 200 followers. It is claimed that the victims of his border raids number thousands.

FIND BODY OF MAN

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 23.—The body of a man believed to be that of Frank Yarle, 32, was found in a rooming house here Thursday. The body was found shortly before noon with a jagged bullet wound in the left temple.

BRITANNIC CASE THREATENS TO DEEPEN TANGLE

Report American Surgeons were Aboard Makes the Case One of Possibly Serious Action

GERMAN PLEDGES BROKEN

Geneva Convention Afforded Immunity to Hospital Ships and Their Complement

BY CARL D. GROAT
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23. — Destruction of the great British hospital ship Britannic seriously threatened Thursday to enter into the tangle of submarine complications between the United States and Germany.

The state department, as usual, wants facts before making conclusions, for thus far it is unaware, officially, whether the vessel was submarined or mined.

The reported presence of American surgeons aboard the vessel made the case one for serious reflection and possibly serious action, taken in connection with pending cases that on the surface appear to show transgressions of German pledges and international rules.

The case would be taken merely as an indication of what way the German war wind is blowing, should it develop the vessel was torpedoed, but without Americans aboard.

Under additions to the Geneva convention, rules were made giving immunity to hospital ships and their complement. Subsequent changes did not affect this idea of respecting vessels engaged on errands of mercy.

Boy Has Penchant For Joyriding With Another's Horse

Carl Fagerland, 16, has a mania for joyriding behind another person's horse that keeps him in hot water. He just escaped from a reform school in Minnesota for that offence Monday night. Now he's in Central police station here for the same stunt.

Carl was arrested here Wednesday night, and confessed to being responsible for the mysterious disappearance of a horse and buggy belonging to Henry Ellis, Onalaska poor commissioner, which was taken from in front of Central station on Tuesday evening.

Carl told Captain Larry Dugan that he had driven the horse out into the country, bivouacked in a straw-stack over night and then returned to the city. His joyride over, he jumped out of the buggy and turned the animal loose. The horse was recovered when he walked into the stableyard of the Eagle hotel on South Fifth street.

The youth was sentenced to from three to six months in the Glen Lake farm school, in Minneapolis last August, he admitted when questioned. He escaped Monday and came to La Crosse. He will probably be returned to the farm school.

HUGHES FORMALLY CONCEDES VICTORY TO THE PRESIDENT

Unsuccessful Candidate Explains That Delay Has Been on Account of Slowness of California Official Count

WILSON SENDS REPLY

Sends Hughes Telegram in Answer; Republicans Expected to Close National Headquarters Shortly

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Formal concession of the victory of Woodrow Wilson in the November 3 election was contained in a message sent Wednesday evening by Charles Evans Hughes, unsuccessful candidate of the republican party, to the president.

Hughes, from Laurel-in-the-Pines, N. J., wired as follows:

"President, White House: Because of the closeness of the vote, I have awaited the official count in California and now that it has been virtually completed permit me to extend you my congratulations upon your re-election. I desire also to express my best wishes for a most successful administration.

"Signed,

"CHARLES EVANS HUGHES."

Following concession of the national election to President Wilson, it is expected republican headquarters in New York will be formally closed within a few days.

William R. Willcox, chairman of the campaign committee, is expected to return to his law practice. Rumors in New York have linked Hughes' name with several prominent law firms.

Republican National Chairman Willcox declared Thursday it was now time for every one to get behind the president and give him undivided support.

"I would have expected the democrats to take the same action we took had they been in our position," said Willcox, commenting on the delay marking the dispatch of Hughes message. "But now that it is all over, it is time for everyone to get behind the president.

President Replies

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—President Wilson on Thursday sent the following reply to the message of Charles E. Hughes congratulating the president on his re-election:

"Charles E. Hughes, Laurel-in-the-Pines, Lakewood, N. J.: I am sincerely obliged to you for your message of congratulation. Allow me to assure you of my good wishes for the years to come.

(Signed)

"WOODROW WILSON."

Not to Alter Cabinet

With the customary post-election amenities disposed of between the two candidates, a search into the telegrams of congratulation received by President Wilson during the last two weeks revealed some interesting facts.

To each of the cabinet members who wired congratulations to the president, he included in his reply the following significant paragraph:

"One of the best things about the result is that it means four more years of active association in public service, and in that I genuinely rejoice."

This is taken to indicate the president has no disposition to change the personnel of his present advisory council.

Cabinet members were particularly strong in their congratulatory language.

Pay Bets

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The last stakeholders who held out to the finish for Charles E. Hughes to concede the re-election of President Wilson, before paying off bets, were busy on Thursday sending out checks to the winners. It was estimated that about $3,000,000 in bets would be paid off by night.

Fairbanks Congratulates Marshall

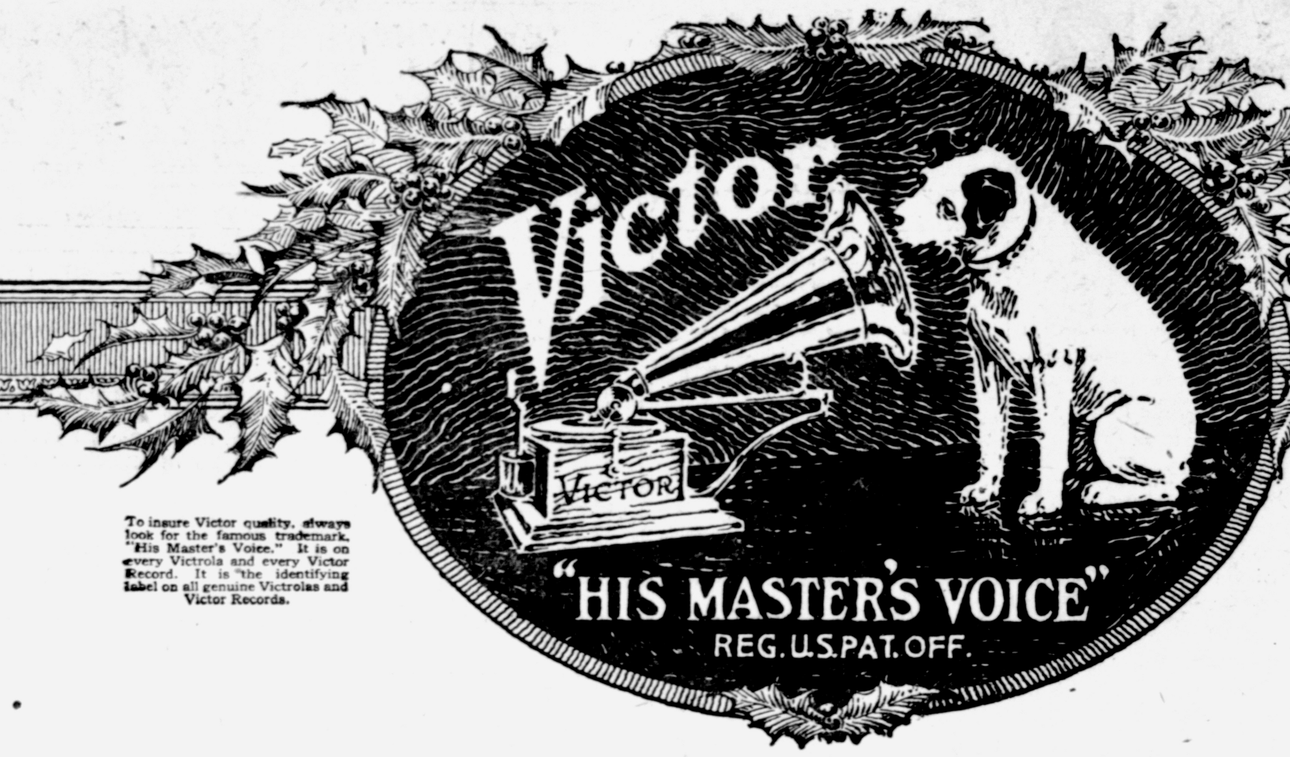
BORDER TRAINING ADDS TO AGGREGATE LIFE OF THE NATION

EL PASO, Tex., Nov. 23.—About 150,000 years is being added to the aggregate life of the population of the United States by the Mexican "situation." Instead of spreading death and disablement the campaign in Mexico and the mobilization of the national guard is adding from a few months to years to the life of every civilian soldier, army physicians declare. Statisticians have figured that the average added to the life of each guardsman will be nearly a year.

After four to six months of training like an athlete, working on the open air, sleping in a tent and eating simple food a hundred thousand guardsmen will go back to civil life with a new lease on life.

WILSON SUFFERS FROM COLD

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—President Wilson is suffering from a slight head cold. This fact, combined with the bad weather compelled him to cancel his customary golf game Thursday morning.



To insure Victor quality, always look for the famous trademark, "His Master's Voice." It is on every Victrola and every Victor Record. It is the identifying label on all genuine Victrolas and Victor Records.

Caruso chose the Victor

—because only the Victor gives you his voice exactly as it is —because only the Victor thrills you with his mighty power

—because only the Victor charms and caresses you with all the delicate beauties of his subtlest tone shadings

—because only the Victor and Victor Records convey his matchless art to all the world for all time

Caruso is the mightiest singer the world has ever seen. He dominates the artistic world. By sheer force of his genius he has at his beck and call every resource known to his art. Only the best would suffice for such an artist. His choice of the Victor was a foregone conclusion. He decided that only the Victor could do full justice to his superb art, that only the Victor could thrill you with his power, that only the Victor could express in every fine detail the vocal subtlety of his softest tones. Hence it is that only on Victor Records can you hear him. And only on the Victrola can you hear him exactly as he is, in the tone-volume best suited to the environment in which you happen to be. Caruso's choice of the Victor demonstrates beyond question the Supremacy of the Victor.

TOOTH-CLEANING DEVICE

A novel patent granted last week was for a substitute for the tooth brush. The device consists of a little waterproof cap fitting over the end of a finger. Attached to it is a brushlike surface of fabric, specially designed for cleaning the teeth. A flexible band attached to the cap encircles the hand and supports the cleaner when in operation. It is claimed that this cleaner, being more flexible than the stiff backed brush, can clean the teeth more thoroughly since it can be fitted into each small angle of teeth and gums.

A WOMAN IN THE PUBLIC EYE

The Honorable Jeannette Rankin is thrust upon us. "Thrust herself upon us", as it were, for from all accounts the first lady (M. C.) of the land conducted neither a negligent nor haphazard campaign.

The suffrage women of America are hugely dee-lighted. "We all simply love Miss Rankin," one of them explained with a bull-moose ardor which suggests that in politics some women may prove as emotional as some men. It is probable, however, that merely indicates Miss Rankin has made herself agreeable as well as plausible.

From all accounts the women's cause is fortunate in having Miss Rankin as first congresswoman. She has a record of work and of things done. That record suggests soundness as well as energy, useful purpose as well as ambition. There will be a tendency to measure women's suffrage by its first congressional exponent, and if she shall prove to be the sensible and patriotic person her career indicates, the cause she represents will be materially strengthened.

The manner of Miss Rankin's election revives an old question: Will sex control the votes of women?

Miss Rankin was elected as an independent. Presumably the total women's vote about equals the men's. If where there's a woman candidate she will get most of the women's votes, all the smart woman need do is to let the republicans and the democrats each nominate a man for each office, and then place an independent woman candidate on the ticket for each office. With the men splitting about evenly between the male candidates, and the women voting almost solidly for the lady candidates, we should have petticoat government in a hurry. The presidential campaign just over pretty finally exploded the idea that women would vote with their own men folk; they probably were more free from party and family influence than were the men. If, as public life unfolds for them, they demonstrate that their regard for principle is stronger than their sex prejudice or cohesion, there'll be little consolation left for the "antis".

Congress will have lots of fun with Hon. J. Rankin, but probably not more fun than the "lady from Montana" will have with congress. Meanwhile the country will have a practical demonstration for which it has waited long.

CITY'S INTERESTS ITS BUSINESS

There appears to be a minority of citizens who are inclined to resent the activities of the Chamber of Commerce committee which is gathering suggestions for a change in the name of Main street. The attitude of these gentlemen is that the Chamber of Commerce is assuming unwarranted authority—meddling, in a word.

Whoever can see in the activities of the civic bureau, directed to the best of its ability toward the broad advancement of the city, nothing more than meddling has a singularly petty frame of mind with which it were perhaps hopeless to argue. He has missed the point entirely. Who shall suggest a suitable name for Main street is a matter of small moment. The important thing is that the suggestion shall be worth while.

It is difficult to comprehend the attitude which accuses the civic bureau of meddling in prosecuting anything which is connected with the city's interests. It is an active arm of the most broadly representative organization in La Crosse, and as such, every legitimate interest in the city becomes its own.

If the civic bureau had not taken the matter up, it is potatoes to peanuts Main street would retain its antediluvian designation long after the members of the "Fifty Thousand Club" had been buried with pioneer honors by the young men of the "Hundred Thousand Association".

BAD WEATHER SUCCESS WILL BE MARKET TRIUMPH

Because the public market comes to its first experimental demonstration in La Crosse under rather adverse circumstances entirely foreign to its merits, the success which is confidently predicted for the produce fair under the big tent Friday should go far to establish the practicality and worth of the project. And should it fail to come up to the highest hopes of the agricultural bureau, Friday's market day will not, it is to be hoped, alter the favorable attitude which the city in general has maintained toward the proposal. If bad roads and evil weather shall prove to be the unfortunate welcome provided by the weatherman for the event, with less than success as a result, the public market plan will not have had a fair test.

If, on the other hand, the producers from the surrounding country attend in considerable numbers, and the housewives in the city make good their intention of improving the opportunity offered, bad weather will only accentuate the success of the venture. Three factors enter into the success of the market experiment: the support of the farmers, the participation of the housewives, and favorable weather. If, with one of the factors missing, the market day presents a measurably satisfactory result, the outcome will be a triumph for the Chamber of Commerce bureau which brought it about, and a potent argument in favor of a permanent market.

CHRISTMAS SEALS CAMPAIGN STARTS

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The annual Christmas campaign of the Committee on Prevention of Tuberculosis of the National Red Cross, to raise funds for use in stamping out the white plague is under way. Nine million of the little "seals" for adornment of Christmas packages are now available at the New York headquarters. It is expected that at least three and one-half millions will be sold in New York.

Out of experience of former years warning has been issued that the "seals" are not postage. They are merely decorations. Persons using them on mailed packages are cautioned not to forget to put on the required number of postage stamps as well.

CHICAGO DEAD LETTER OFFICE

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—Opening of a dead letter office here January first was announced Thursday by M. M. McLane, superintendent of the dead letter service in Washington. All dead-letters in the middle west will be opened at Chicago instead of being forwarded to Washington as in the past. Dead letter offices will be opened at New York and San Francisco also.

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles

Out of the Mouths of Kids

Newton D. Baker, secretary of war, tells of an incident that occurred in the village school where he received the first elements of his education.

"A young teacher was trying to make clear the fundamental doctrines of the Declaration of Independence and was at somewhat of a loss just how to impress it upon the minds of her young pupils.

"'Now, boys,' she said, 'I will give each of you three ordinary buttons. Here they are. You must think of the first one as representing Life, of the second one as representing Liberty, and the third one as representing the Pursuit of Happiness. Next week I will ask you each to produce the three buttons and tell me what they represent.'

"When the time came, teacher looked at the youngest pupil, and said, 'Now, William, produce your three buttons and tell me what they stand for.'

"'I ain't got 'em all,' sobbed the boy, holding out two of the buttons, 'Here's Life an' here's Liberty, but me mudder sewed th' Pursuit of Happiness onto me pants.'"

Nothing to Fight For

The Big Boss tells us an anecdote about a husky colored boy who was being urged to enlist at the public square recently.

"Whaffo' should Ah go an' be a soldier?" he asked.

"Strong fellows like you ought to fight for your country," said the recruiting sergeant.

"Yessah," responded the negro: "dat kind o' talk is all right fo' de fahmahs—let 'em fight foh dey country."

"But why shouldn't you fight for your country?"

"Me? Ah ain't got no country—Ah was raised in de city."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

THE TRIBUNE'S DAILY TRAVELETTE

(By Niknah)

THE COTSWOLD

The Cotswold are another example of the variety of natural scenery that England succeeds in packing away with her narrow sea-barred boundaries. Here, within three hours of the largest city in the world, you can walk in complete loneliness, over a grassy road that follows the route laid out by Roman engineers, with a tumbled skyline of real mountains on your right, and a sweep of empty fields falling away to the left. You can take tea in an old Roman villa, where the tiled courtyard is still smooth and tight; you can sleep in an inn that has apparently not changed its habits or its bill of fare since the days of Richard the Crusader.

As mountains, the Cotswold cannot pretend to any great eminence or boldness. They have no attractions for the man who wishes to brave steep cliffs, or for him who would travel for a week on end through a single pine-dark valley. They are well bred little hills compared to the Alps or the Rockies, but they have the true mountain flavor of loneliness and sturdy charm. The occasional farmhouse does little to spoil the effect; rather it enhances the peculiar feeling of isolation that grows as you travel, for a single human dwelling only serves to set off loneliness.

And the roads are a perpetual delight. The King's Highway winds through these hills—a public road that would cost the landed proprietor who owns the ground on either side of it half his fortune in legal expenses to close up. English law has not made for equal distribution of land, but it is insistent on keeping the roads open. This is a fortunate thing for the stray traveler; you can follow the grassy track through lands so quiet and smoothly green that you are sure again and again that you have gone astray and wandered into the heart of some nobleman's game preserve.

At night the highway brings you to some quiet village, Northleach or Winchcombe, stern and Gloomy with gray stone and taciturn people. English to the core. You sit in some low-ceiled inn parlor and try to realize that London in only three hours away.

PUT CREAM IN NOSE AND STOP CATARRH

Tells How To Open Clogged Nostrils and End Head-Colds.

You feel fine in a few moments. Your cold in head or catarrh will be gone. Your clogged nostrils will open. The air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. No more dullness, headache; no hawking, snuffling, mucous discharges or dryness; no struggling for breath at night.

Tell your druggist you want a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream in your nostrils, let it penetrate through every air passage of the head; soothe and heal the swollen, inflamed mucous membrane, and relief comes instantly.

It is just what every cold and catarrh sufferer needs. Don't stay stuffed-up and miserable.

THE HASKIN LETTER

The Romance of Violins

By Frederic J. Haskin

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 23.

The recent rumor that a genuine Stradivari violoncello had been discovered in the attic of an old farmhouse in Indiana proved a false alarm. Upon examination it was found that the cello was of German origin. The only Stradivarius violoncello in America today is owned by a Baltimorean.

It is the property of Mr. Albert Hildebrandt, the local cellist of some note and the head of an old musical firm that began its career in 1838.

Carefully wrapped in silk and enclosed by a splendid mahogany case in the Hildebrandt shop is the genuine Stradivarius, played upon only at rare intervals by its owner or some visiting artist—for every cellist who comes to Baltimore immediately rushes to see the instrument. Such well-known cellists as Leo Schultz, William Willeke, Paul Miersch, Bart Wirtz and Anton Urak have played upon it; and poets have written verses to the beauty of its tone.

A real "Strad" instrument of any kind in this age is extremely rare; there are probably not more than half a dozen of the master's cellos in existence. This one was obtained by Mr. Hildebrandt's father in 1851 from an Italian count, who was touring this country with his invalid wife. The count was in financial difficulties and was compelled to sell it, although the instrument had been in his family for centuries. As soon as the news of the purchase became public, many connoisseurs and collectors visited the Hildebrandt shop and examined the cello, establishing beyond a doubt its authenticity. The workmanship is of the 1717 period; the tone is deep and rich, and the varnish is preserved intact as it was two centuries ago. Sarasate, the Spanish violinist, and the famous Hungarian artist, Edouard Remenjy, are both enthusiastic in their praise of this original Stradivari.

The greatest violin-maker who ever lived was this Antonio Stradivari, of Cremona, Italy. Born in 1644, he lived to be ninety-three years of age, during which period he made in the neighborhood of fifteen hundred violins, very few of which have stood the wear and tear of centuries. Occasionally one is unearthed in some old attic or chateau of Europe in almost its original state of perfection, but a great many of there are undoubtedly fakes. The Stradivari label bears a cross with the letters "I. H. S." under it, but in counterfeiting an instrument it is as easy to fake the label as anything else.

The craze for Cremona violins has tempted many violin-makers to copy Cremona models and forge the proper labels, thereby making five or six hundred dollars on an instrument that would otherwise sell for seventy-five or a hundred dollars. Besides Antonio, there were several other Stradivari who made remarkable violins that are in great demand today; there was Nicolo Amati, the teacher of Antonio, whose work is extensively imitated; Carlo Bergonzi, pupil of Stradivari, and Joseph Antonio del Gesu Guarnerius, the greatest violin-maker next to Antonio Stradivari. The patterns made by these original violin-makers are still in vogue today, but modern artisans are not able to produce the early Italian varnish, which was the product of a secret process, and thereby imitate the exquisite tone of the seventeenth century violins.

At least, such is the opinion of the majority of violinists. Others believe that some of the modern violins, made of old wood and of careful workmanship, are finer than some of the Cremona violins which have been imperfectly made of badly preserved. That the difference between a well-made modern violin and one of the early Italian school is often impossible to distinguish is illustrated by the Gemunder incident. George Gemunder studied the violin-making with Villiume of Paris, who was one of the best French makers, and opened a shop in New York, where he made a number of very successful violins. In 1872, he made a copy of a Joseph Guarnerius violin that was such a fine imitation of the old master that it deceived the best judges of Europe, who unhesitatingly pronounced it a genuine.

Mr. Gemunder, however, was not anxious to become a maker of fake violins, but desired to build up his reputation as a legitimate maker of violins on the Guarnerius pattern. He was therefore greatly distressed at the verdict of the judges. Fortunately, he came across a newspaper friend of his in Vienna, where the violin had been exhibited, and told him his story. The newspaper man became interested and determined to prove Gemunder's case for him. "The thing for you to do," he said, "is to sit right down here in Vienna and make another violin exactly like it." This Gemunder did, and succeeded in convincing the judges. Today Gemunder violins are very valuable, and the one which fooled all Europe is now in the possesion of Mr. Frederick Gottlief of this city, who considers it one of the greatest prizes in his collection. It is christened "The Kaiser."

While the expert violin-dealer, like a bank clerk who handles money, is often able to distinguish a counterfeit violin by the mere touch of it, even he is not infallible, and the amateur is always being taken in by violin fakes of one kind and another. In buying a violin there are a great many things to be considered. Every violin is different. An instrument that has a rich sonorous tone may be well adapted to a concert hall and still sound harsh in the average room, no matter who is playing it. A violin, if well made, will mellow with age, but if poorly made no amount of playing will have any effect upon it. Cheap violins are an abomination to art. If the performer already knows how to play, such an instrument will be a constant source of annoyance to him, and if he does not know how to play the harsh and nasal tone of the cheap violin will ruin his ear.

Before the war hundreds of thousands of violins were imported every year from Germany, many of which sold for prices ranging from $2 to $4.75. These violins were all machine-made and usually a torture to anybody who had to listen to them. Good violins as cheap as five dollars are very scarce; even a great many at twenty-five dollars are loud and harsh. Occasionally, however, violins of the very cheapest order have a soft sweet tone that is not to be accounted for by any of the features supposed to produce good tone—namely, varnish, quality of wood and expert workmanship. A few years ago, for example a young man who worked in a furniture factory wanted a violin, but he could not afford to buy one. He secured a few scraps of an old door to a house that was being torn down, and with these and a piece of peachwood he made his own violin modeled after the Duke pattern. For some inexplicable reason the violin had a beautiful quality and tone; and a violin teacher who happened to hear it and was told the story offered to give the young man lessons. He has now left the furniture company and is playing in a professional orchestra.

While hundreds of excellent violins are turned out every year by modern violin-makers in this country and abroad, probably to be valued as highly as the early Cremonas in the centuries to come, there are a great many also which would serve their best purpose as kindling. In purchasing a violin, consult someone who knows a good violin when he sees it—and hears it; an unprejudiced person, such as an experienced violinist or music teacher.

To most of the great artists, of course, there is no violin quite like Cremona, and almost all the great violinists of the American concert stage have either a "Strad" or a Guarnerius. Albert Spaulding, the American violinist, recently purchased a Guarnerius for twenty-thousand dollars, which is not a remarkable price for such an instrument. Mr. Hildebrandt's Stradivari cello is not for sale—the owner would just as soon part with his right hand—but on being pressed for a price he declared that he would not take fifteen thousand dollars for it. His position is not hard to understand. Carven wood varnish—after they had sung with the passion of half a dozen masters it is easy to believe with musicians that they acquire something like a soul.

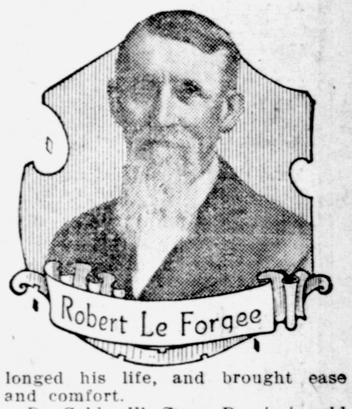
Says Simple Remedy Prolonged His Life

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin Effective as a Remedy for Constipation.



Among older people the various organs of the body have a tendency to slow up and weaken, and this is usually first manifest in a pronounced inactivity of the bowels.

Good health is dependent on regularity in this important function, whenever there is the slightest indication of constipation a mild laxative should be taken to relieve the congestion and dispose of the accumulated waste. Cathartics or purgatives should not be employed, however; these are too violent in action and their effect is only temporary.

A mild laxative such as the combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin, known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is the ideal remedy. It is gentle in its action, bringing relief in an easy, natural manner, without griping or other pain or discomfort, is pleasant to the taste, and can be obtained in any drug store.

Mr. Robert LeForgee, 918 Kirkwood Boulevard, Davenport, Iowa, says he has always had a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin in the house for the past eighteen years, and that by using it occasionally as the need arises, and in this way keeping his health good, it has prolonged his life, and brought ease and comfort.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is sold by druggists everywhere, and costs only fifty cents a bottle. To avoid imitations and ineffective substitutes be sure to get Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. See that a facsimile of Dr. Caldwell's signature and his portrait appear on the yellow carton in which the bottle is packed. A trial bottle, free of charge, can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 455 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

EXPRESS MESSENGER ROBBED

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Nov. 23.—Two men held up Fred Cornielson, driver for the Southern Express company here, and obtained a sum which is reported as high as $40,000.

Cornielson reported the robbery when he staggered through the door of the express company's office. He said he had been stopped by the men, who forced him to hand over the key to the box where the money was stored and then worked the combination. They struck him on the head, he declared, and then fled. The box which was opened is said to have contained nearly $100,000 in currency.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

CAR IS DRESSING ROOM FOR STAR

This business of being versatile has its draw-backs, as Pauline Frederick found when she was acting in "Ashes and Embers," in which she is being starred by the Famous Players at the Bijou this week. In this Paramount Picture, Miss Frederick plays two distinctly different roles. While the picture was in progress her director, Joseph Kaufman, informed her that she would have to wear the costumes for both roles at the same spot, which was fully an hour's motor ride from the studio. Anyone but Miss Frederick would probably have had visions of traveling back and forth from the location to the studio in order to make her changes. But the Famous Players star simply ordered her limousine, loaded her costumes and her maid into the car, and proceeded to make her changes right where the scenes were being taken with the limousine curtains discreetly drawn, of course.

Showing tonight, Friday and Saturday.

RUSHFORD BANQUET IS FOR LEWISTON

RUSHFORD, Minn.—(Special.)—The banquet served last Friday by the local O. E. S. for the Lewiston lodge proved a great success in every way. About forty visiting members were present from Lewiston and in all it is estimated that over one hundred partook of the supper.

Vice Prevention Talks

Mrs. Maud T. Hanson, of Minneapolis, spoke to a good-sized audience at the Presbyterian church last Friday, the afternoon meeting being for ladies only, the evening address being open to all. After the afternoon's talk a luncheon was served in the church dining-room, the local W. C. T. U. having it in charge. A silver collection was taken at the evening meeting, to aid in carrying on Mrs. Hanson's work, she being the superintendent of the woman's department of the N. W. society for the prevention of vice. Mrs. Hanson spoke at the high school building, a few moments before commencing the meeting at the church in the afternoon.

Christmas Sale

The ladies of the Rushford Presbyterian church will hold their annual sale of Christmas articles and serve supper at the church basement on Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 5. A fine chance is thus afforded all to select Christmas gifts without the trouble of making them.

Local and Personal

Word was received in this city by the friends of Prof. and Mrs. Harold Craig, former residents of Rushford, that the elder Mrs. Craig passed away at the home of her son last Saturday morning at ten o'clock. A stroke of paralysis, suffered by her the night before, was the cause of her death. Her husband passed away about a year ago, paralysis also being the cause of his death. Mrs. Craig had, while making her residence in Rushford with her son and daughter-in-law, made a wide circle of friends as had also the elder Mr. Craig and the heartfelt sympathy of all goes out to the ones left to mourn. The family, upon leaving this city, moved to Minneapolis in which city Prof. Craig holds a responsible position in the city schools.

Mrs. Peter Anderson, of the nearby vicinity, was taken down to La Crosse last Sunday morning, on the early freight, to undergo an operation for appendicitis, at the Lutheran hospital. She was accompanied by her husband, father and mother and infant child of three weeks'. The husband and father came back the following Tuesday but her mother remained to care for the little one. She is recovering from the effects of the operation. Mrs. Anderson is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kahoon of this vicinity.

A somewhat strangs occurrence came about last Tuesday, when on the afternoon passenger train there departed from this city, three of our residents, all of whom were bound for La Crosse Lutheran hospital to undergo an operation for goiter. The trio were Mrs. William Brunner, Mrs. Marie Ensrud and William Baerman. They were accompanied by a local physician, also Mr. J. C. St. John, Mrs. Brunner's father and Miss Hilda Stensing, Mrs. Ensrud's sister. On Wednesday morning, the two ladies were operated upon with splendid results, they recovering nicely from the effects but it was deemed best to delay Mrs. Baerman's operation for a few days, until he had rested a bit.

Miss Alice Berg, who is a nurse at the La Crosse Lutheran hospital, came up last Monday evening for a short rest at the home of her parents here, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Berg, of Church Hill.

D. P. Nestor, whose work as agent for a nursery firm has kept him in Montana the past summer, is now at home in this city.

The officers and teachers of the Presbyterian Sunday school met at the home Miss Lapman, the secretary and treasurer, last Tuesday evening, to plan for the Christmas festivities.

CHARLIE CHAPLIN AT THE DOME

A couple of gatling guns of fun will be exploded at the Dome theater Friday when—you've guessed right—Charlie Chaplin comes to the North La Crosse house in "Caught in a Cabaret." The film is one of the best of the long Chaplin list, and a sure winner where fun in generous measure is desired.

A large cast, containing several faces familiar to Dome patrons, will play on the same program with Chaplin in "The Lass of the Lumberlands."

Catherine Countess, beautiful star who has appeared from time to time at the Dome, and whose coming always attracts attention, will feature the production of "The Modern Magdelene," at the Dome Thursday.

PAIN, PAIN, PAIN, STOP NEURALGIA

"St. Jacobs Oil" conquers pain—It is prefectly harmless and doesn't burn or discolor the skin. Nothing else gives relief so quickly. It never fails to stop neuralgia pain instantly, whether in the face, head or any part of the body. Don't suffer!

YOUR SICK CHILD IS CONSTIPATED! LOOK AT TONGUE

If cross, feverish or bilious give "California Syrup of Figs."

No matter what ails your child, a gentle, thorough laxative should always be the first treatment given.

If your little one is out-of-sorts, half-sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative", because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs;" then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

PROBLEM OF DAY IS DISCUSSED BY NOTED FILM PLAY

An example of how the human family craves for playing children is brought out strongly in "Where Are My Children?" the photoplay dealing with a problem of the hour, which began its return engagement at the La Crosse theater Wednesday to the usual pleased audiences.

While the story itself may be called sensational, there is little of the melodramatic, and the harsh facts meant to be brought into view are softened by scenes of children at play, and by the love of the little tots on the part of a man, the role played by Tyrone Power, who is deprived of their comfort.

It was evidenced by the enthusiasm which with La Crosse greeted the second appearance of the film that it will be accompanied by the same success it had when first in the city.

The music is a special attraction, special scores being played by an augmented theater orchestra.

Mrs. Grace McLinden sings during each performance.

Hotel Man Dies

John J. Donovan died at his home on Superior avenue at 5:30 o'clock on Wednesday morning, Nov. 22, after an illness of four weeks. The cause of his death being kidney trouble.

Mr. Donovan was born in the county of Cork, Ireland, in the year 1847. He came to America in 1869 and came to Tomah from Meadow Valley twenty-five years ago. For the past few years Mr. Donovan has been the proprietor of the Tomah Hotel and Restaurant. He is survived by his wife, five sons and two daughters, and one brother, the only remaining one of nine brothers and sisters.

The funeral will be held Saturday, Nov. 25 at 10 o'clock from the St. Mary's Catholic church.

Basket Ball Begins

Basket ball practice will start immediately after Thanksgiving. The prospects are good this year in spite of the loss of most of last year's players. Ed. Denomie and other high school students, who are on the border will be back by then.

HOW APPENDICITIS CAN BE PREVENTED

La Crosse people should know that a few doses of simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-i-ka, often relieve or prevent appendicitis. This simple mixture removes such surprising foul matter that ONE SPOONFUL relieves almost ANY CASE constipation, sour stomach or gas. A short treatment helps chronic stomach trouble. Adler-i-ka has easiest and most thorough action of anything we ever sold. Hoeschler Bros., druggists.

MAFIA CLAIMS TWO

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—"Little Hell" on Thursday buried the secret of two murders. They came within thirty minutes after a squad of police had searched more than 400 citizens of "Little Italy" for guns, dirks and knives. Not a gun nor knife was found.

The police had hardly left when a dozen shots cracked out and the Mafia claimed Tony Gariti and Frank Di Leonardo, grocers. They had received "marked" letters.

"I do' know who," witnesses shrugged.

HOLD FOUR FOR MURDER

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—Police are holding four men in connection with the murder of Joe Hogerty, 28, who was shot in the Burnham Inn, Howard and Center streets, Burnham, Ill., a suburb, early Thursday.

DRINK HOT TEA FOR A BAD COLD

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.

It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.

GUYNEMER GETS ANOTHER

PARIS, Nov. 23.—Lieutenant Guynemer brought down his twenty-second German aeroplane in an aerial action reported in Thursday's official statement.

The night was calm along the entire front, the statement said.

"Look Pa, How 'Gets-It' Works!"

Lifts Your Corn Right Off. Never Fails

"Ever in your life see a corn come out like that? Look at the true skin underneath—smooth as the palm of your hand!

Well Now, Look at That! Off Comes That Pesky Corn as Slick as a Whistle.

The earth is blessed with the one, simple, painless, never-failing remedy that makes millions of corn-pestered people happy, and that's GETS-IT. Apply it in 3 seconds. It dries. Some people jab and dig at their corns with knives and razors—wrap their toes in packages with bandages or sticky tape, make them red and raw with salves. Nothing like this with "GETS-IT." Your corn loosens—you lift it off. There's nothing to press on the corn, or hurt. Angels couldn't ask for more. Try it tonight on any corn, callus or wart.

"GETS-IT" is sold and recommended by druggists everywhere, 25c a bottle, or sent on receipt of price by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

MEXICANS BALK AT AMERICAN CONTROL OF BORDER PATROL

Otherwise, Plan for Withdrawal of American Forces from Mexico When Practicable Is Finally Settled

WANT SINGLE LEADERSHIP

Americans Hold That During Disorganized State in Mexico American Command of Guard Is Only Solution

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 23.—The Mexican-American border question being worked out by the joint commission of the two countries here Thursday resolved itself into a question of reason and pride—American reason and Mexican pride. Each side is adhering stubbornly to its guns, but neither feels the situation is hopeless.

Willingness of the United States to withdraw its troops as soon as the proper safeguard for the future safety of the border have been made, has resulted in centering all discussion for the present on the form the border patrol shall take. An agreement has been reached up to a certain point. Mexican members of the commission want a mutual agreement whereby troops of the Mexican government may pursue bandits back into the United States, if any cross into Mexico from this side, just as they will agree to the pursuit of Mexican marauders across the across the line and into Mexico by United States troops.

This plan, it was learned only Thursday has been agreed to by the American commissioners, providing the alleged patrol on both sides of the border for various reasons, is under the control of an American general.

This is where Mexican pride has entered into the controversy. Mexican troops, the Carranza representatives say, may be commanded only by Mexican generals.

American members of the commission have argued that manifestly the only sort of a border patrol that will work—and the only sort that will justify the United States in withdrawing its troops—is one under a single directing head. Because of disorganized conditions in Mexico, they say, obviously this leader must be an American.

Before opening the section of the joint commission, it was made plain by members that there is no foundation for the rumor that Luis Cabrera, one of the Mexican members, will be asked to withdraw from the body.

CROWDS APPROVE DAVIS POSTHUMOUS PLAY OF THE WAR

"Somewhere in France," the best war picture Triangle has ever sent out for delighted American audiences, is the exception to th erule of photoplay producers who have tabooed war films—war plays—and everything having to do with war. Scenario writers were long ago warned that their brain children would find a cradle in the waste basket and they have desisted, but the above named story, the last bit of fiction by Richard Harding Davis before his recent untimely end is irresistible—a mystery having to do with a German girl who turns French spy for the love of adventure.

The production was accepted joyfully by a large matinee audience at the Majestic theater, Thursday and for several reasons, aside from the fact that it is one of the choicest products of Davis' pen, success is predicted for it until the end of the present week.

Louise Glaum has been selected by the Triangle powers as the feminine star, who plays the role of the spy. Opposite her is Howard Hichman, who became famous in a succession of photoplays for Griffith, Ince and Sennett, leading up to his appearance as the masculine star of "Civilization."

The photography is striking, and a series of novel effects are employed.

SAYS WIFE SOLD KISSES

TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 23.—Kisses at $10 each were doled out to him by his wife, said Rev. John Triplett, testifying here in his suit for divorce. He said she told him other men's wives often received that price for them.

DRAMATIC READER FOURTH ON NORMAL LECTURE COURSE

The next number of the normal lecture course, occurring on Monday evening, Nov. 27, is a dramatic reading given by Mrs. Fenetta Sargent Haskell. She will present on this occasion the stirring romance by Justin Huntley McCarthy, entitled, "If I were King."

Mrs. Haskell is not an old style elocutionist but in reality an actor who takes many parts in the play. To the listener it seems as though every one of the characters was present upon the stage.

Respecting Mrs. Haskell's qualifications for this work,the press reports that she has received are most favorable. Says the New York Times: "Mrs. Haskell was the guest of the club and recited from Thackeray's Nurcomes in a most clever manner. She is a woman of unmistakable personality." The San Francisco Report comments as follows: "Could Dickens have heard Mrs. Haskell interpret his David Copperfield at the Palace Hotel last night, he would have exclaimed, 'the dead can live again.'"

This is the fourth number of the lecture course.

PUBLIC DEBATE

Dear Sir: I would call Main street La Crosse avenue as being a distinctive title that should not be duplicated in any city in the United States and therefore one that would possess an advertising power for our wonderful street car system, especially our dinkeys which are still in existence on the Oak Grove and Twenty-third street line, which is noted for its great speed and ten minute schedule and also for its well appreciated service.

Yours truly,
HAROLD RAU,

TWO MONTHS IN JAIL FOR BELGIANS WHO BALK GERMAN ORDERS

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 23.—Two months imprisonment is the punishment meted out by German authorities to Belgian deportees who refuse to do the work their captors demand, according to the newspaper Echo De Belge. The Belgians, it was declared, had been jailed at Coblentz and Dusseldorf.

The population of the Belgian city of Lesines openly revolted at execution of the deportation orders and attacked the railway station, smashing its windows. The German commandant, the newspaper adds, had threatened to punish the entire community.

SOCIETY

Miss Charlotte Mann Becomes The Bride Of Edward A. Burns

Waterloo society witnessed a beautiful and impressive ceremony on Tuesday night when Miss Charlotte Boyd Mann, oldest daughter of Dr. and Mrs. O. J. Fullerton, became the bride of Mr. Edward A. Burns, only son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Burns of this city, at St. Joseph's Catholic church, Waterloo. The ceremony was performed by the Very Reverend Edward Slattery, pastor of St. Joseph's, at an altar beautifully decorated with chrysanthemums, ferns and palms.

The wedding was set for eight o'clock. Preceding the arrival of the bridal party, Miss Irma Good sang "Beloved, It is Morn" (Hickey-Aylward), with Miss Edyth Wyant at the organ. Miss Wyant, accompanied by Mrs. S. Bruce Galloway on the violin, sounded the opening bars of the Lohengrin March as the party entered the church.

Mr. Dorrance Place led the bridal procession to the altar. Following him were the ushers, Messrs. Rider Wallis of Dubuque; Robert Gordon and E. Olson of this city; William Purcell of Clinton, Iowa; Robert Lichty and Jackson McCoy of Waterloo. Then came Master Hugh Wallace McLeod, bearing the ring in the heart of a calla lily.

Miss Elizabeth Mann, sister of the bride, led the bridesmaids, the Misses Helene Balliet, Edith Wangler, Harriet Touhey, Mae Wangler and Irene Knapp. Next came the matron of honor, Mrs. J. J. Padesky, sister of the groom. She was followed by the maid of honor, Miss Harriet Kerlin Ade, cousin of the bride. Dr. O. J. Fullerton, with his daughter on his arm, met the groom and his best man, Mr. Arthur Funk of this city, at the altar.

The bride wore a gown of silver cloth, cut in empire fashion, with full court train and overdress of tulle trimmed with silver. Her tulle veil was caught over her hair by a coronet of pearls and fell to the hem of the train. She carried a shower bouquet of orchids, lilies of the valley and rose buds.

The matron of honor wore her wedding gown of white satin with pearl trimmings and a hat of yellow tulle and dark fur. She carried yellow chrysanthemums. Miss Ade was gowned in tulle in varying shades of violet and lavendar, trimmed with silver. Her hat was of violet tulle with ermine and French flowers.

The bridesmaids costumes, with their snug-fitting bodices, full tulle skirts and silver trimmings, were much alike and their hats matched their gowns. Miss Mann and Miss Touhey wore gowns of different shades of blue and carried yellow chrysanthemums. Miss Balliet and Miss Wangler wore orchid pink and carried pink chrysanthemums. Miss Knapp and Miss Edith Wangler were dressed in Nile green and carried white chrysanthemums. Master McLeod wore a suit of white satin.

Miss Wyant played softly throughout the ceremony until the bridal pair led the procession from the church to Mendelssohn's Wedding March, played on the organ and the violin. A wedding reception followed at "Nine Elms," the residence of Dr. and Mrs. Fullerton.

Great wicker baskets of chrysanthemums tied with tulle were used in decorating the house. A two course wedding supper was served by the Misses Mary Watkins, Helen Place and Donna Voorhies. The attractive bride's table was laid with a lace cloth over yellow silk. A shower bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums with ribbons extending to the corners of the table and ending there in huge bows of yellow tulle, hung from the chandelier above. The wedding cake in the center of the table was surrounded by yellow candles in crystal sticks tied with bows of tulle.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Burns assisted Dr. and Mrs. Fullerton in receiving the guests. Mrs. Burns wore a gown of blue silk georgette and silver lace with a hat of silver and brown tulle. Mrs. Fullerton was dressed in blue tulle trimmed with blue and silver lace over white brocaded satin. Her hat was of blue. Mrs. William Soyne of Wilmington, Delaware, aunt of the groom, had a striking costume of Russian blue velvet and browne tulle with Kolinsky fur and gold lace. Her hat was of black lace trimmed with black aigrettes. Mrs. Charles H. Ade, sister of Mrs. Fullerton, appeared in bronze cloth, black tulle and jet. Her hat was of bronze lace. Miss Catherine Gallagher, cousin of the groom, wore white lace and green taffeta. Miss Helen Gallagher's gown was of white net and turquoise blue velvet. Mrs. Hugh McLeod, a cousin of the bride, was dressed in turquoise blue taffeta and silver lace.

Mrs. Burns has spent most of her life in Waterloo, where she was a popular member of the younger social set. She was graduated from Mount St. Joseph, Dubuque, where she took her degree in music. Her ability as a pianist and organist gave her an enviable place in musical circles in Waterloo. She was also active in the fine arts department of the Woman's club there and a member of numerous social organizations.

The bridal couple left for an extended eastern trip. They will stop at New York, Washington and other places of interest. Mrs. Burns wore a traveling costume of black velvet trimmed with marten and a hat of mustard shade trimmed with seal. They will be at home here at 930 Cass street after Dec. 15.

The guests from La Crosse were Mr. and Mrs. John C. Burns, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Padesky, Mrs. Gregory J. Egan, Mr. Robert Gordon, Mr. E Olson, Mr. Arthur Funk, Miss Katharine Gallagher and Miss Helen Gallagher. Mrs. William Coyne of Wilmington, Delaware, a sister of Mrs. Burns, also attended.

LA CROSSE WOMAN'S CLUB

The La Crosse Woman's club met yesterday with Mrs. C. A. McCann, 1509 Wood street, Mrs. Morley presiding. The meeting was the second of a series on topics of civic interest. After the business meeting, the Reverend D. C. Dixon of the Kane Street church, spoke on feeble-mindedness, the discussion being a continuation of the lecture given here some time ago by Mr. Johnson. Mrs. Otto Schlabach followed with a talk on "The Boy and His Gang." Because of the length of the business meeting, the reports of the state convention were deferred until the next meeting, which will be at the home of Mrs. J. C. Huecker, 1335 Avon street.

SEWING CLUB

The Busy Sewing club met last evening with Miss Marie Whittenberg, 1302 Avon street. Refreshments were served.

COFFEE

Mrs. P. A. Pilger entertained yesterday at a coffee at her home, 1823 Wood street, in honor of Mrs. F. Botz, a former resident of this city, who is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Clark Johnson.

YEOMEN EVENTS

Over 300 members and friends attended the weekly social of the Brotherhood of American Yeomen last Tuesday evening. The music was furnished by Hackbart's orchestra.

The Yeomen held their regular meeting in the lodge rooms and a number of new applications were presented for the next large class to be taken in in the near future. Dr. O. G. Winters, Des Moines, Iowa, assistant medical director of the order, gave an interesting talk. It was decided to show moving pictures of the Yeomen Home Coming to members and friends in the near future. This entertainment will be free to all. After the meeting an oyster supper was served.

In the afternoon the Rowena circle held its regular meeting. Progressive cinch was played, prizes going to Mesdames Mosse, Delphenich, Buchholz, Vondrashek, Rubert and Kohn.

The next meeting of the circle of the Yeomen will be held December 5, when the annual election of officers will take place.

The Yeomen will give a dance next Tuesday evening and one also on Thanksgiving night.

IN AND OUT OF TOWN

Mrs. Charles Schumacher of Detroit is visiting her mother, Mrs. Emma Aiken, 911 Tyler street, who is ill.

Mrs. George M. Erickson, 917 Division street, will leave in about two weeks for Des Moines, Iowa, where she will make her home with her sister, Mrs. J. E. Epperson

Mr. H. O. Pless of Arizona is home to spend the winter with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Tracy, 423 Johnson street. Mr. Pless made 400 miles of the trip on horseback in eight and a half days.

WEDNESDAY BRIDGE CLUB

The Wednesday Bridge club met yesterday afternoon with Mrs. R. G. Miner, 217 South Sixteenth street. The prize was won by Mrs. A. E. Soderberg.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The Ibsen club will meet Friday at the home of Mrs. A. Bellerue, 234 South Eleventh street. The Misses Josephine Strom and Emma Arnegaard will be the hostesses.

SENTENCES BURROUGHS BANDIT

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 23.—James Walton's brief dip into outlawry brought a stern reward today when the youthful "Burroughs bandit" was sentenced by Judge Connolly, in recorder's court, to serve from 12½ to 25 years in Jackson state prison. Last August Walton, with two companions, held up the Burroughs Adding Machine company paycar and rifled it of $32,000.

Two home made iron holders fastened together with a tape a yard long, and thrown around the neck will save having to look for a towel in handling hot dishes.

MULBERGER GETS TEMPORARY U. S. ATTORNEY PLACE

Word of the temporary appointment of Arthur Mulberger, assistant United States district attorney, to the position left vacant through the sudden death of United States District Attorney John A. Aylward at his home in Madison, was received here on Thursday. The temporary appointment is made by Federal Judge A. L. Sanborn. Attorney Mulberger will carry on the work of the grand jury, begun here a week ago.

DON'T SUFFER WITH NEURALGIA

Musterole Gives Delicious Comfort

When those sharp pains go shooting through your head, when your skull seems as if it would split, just rub a little Musterole on the temples and neck. It draws out the inflammation, soothes away the pain, usually giving quick relief.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Better than a mustard plaster and does not blister.

Many doctors and nurses frankly recommend Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet—colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). It is always dependable.

APPROPRIATE BIG SUM FOR SCHOOL OF AGRICULTURE

By a unanimous vote the La Crosse county board of supervisors on Wednesday afternoon appropriated the sum of $10,000 for the county agricultural school at Onalaska, for 1917.

The sum of $6,000 is to be used for the maintenance of the school proper. Four thousand dollars additional were appropriated for extension work, which it is planned to carry on throughout the county on a larger scale than ever before.

Professor T. H. Campion, principal, spoke to the board members. He declared that extension work among farmers of the county would pay well out that he would need a large sum with which to work. Superintendent of Shools B. F. Oltman, asked the board for an appropriation of $9,000. Supervisor E. W. Guenther raised the only objection to the increased sum, declaring that Oltman's request had been substantiated enough.

CLUBWOMEN WILL DISCUSS PICTURE

A meeting of delegates from several local women's clubs, who formed the audience for a private view of "Less Than Dust," a new photoplay in which Mary Pickford is to appear at the La Crosse theater, will hold a meeting probably Monday, in order to arrive at a verdict on the picture, and to discuss a plan for school-children's matinees. Announcement that the picture had been endorsed, it was said by members of the club committees, was premature.

MODIFIED MANAGER PLAN PROPOSED BY CHARTER REVISERS

Will Introduce Ordinance Friday Night Abolishing the Board of Public Works

NEW BOARD OF OFFICERS

Mayor, Comptroller and Attorney to Be Directing Heads With Engineer as Responsible Agent

A decade of controversy over the merits of the board of public works system as demonstrated in La Crosse will come to a head Friday night, when the special charter revision committee will submit an ordinance abolishing the board and substituting a modification of the city manager plan. The ordinance, it is expected, will be referred. At a later meeting, when it is reported back to the council for final decision, a debate which promises to be acrimonious will probably be staged.

Need Sixteen Votes

For passage of the ordinance favorable votes of sixteen aldermen will be required. Whether the board of public works will be able to muster enough friends among the twenty-one aldermen to defeat the measure is a question, the decision of which is looked forward to with lively anticipation.

The report of the charter revisionists will recommend a new board of public works consisting of the mayor, the comptroller and the city attorney. The city engineer will be their responsible agent, if the law carries, and all the city's work now handled through the board of public works will be under his supervision.

The report of the committee will be signed by five of the members. Alderman William P. Roellig will present a minority report.

Mahoney Wants Manager

It is understood that Alderman Paul W. Mahoney is preparing to suggest an amendment to the ordinance, creating the office of a city manager to take charge of all the city work, with the city engineer and other officials working under his direction.

The committee will also propose an ordinance increasing the number of policemen available. The force is now restricted to one officer for each 2,000 of population. The suggested change makes the ratio one to 1,500.

PROBE TRANSACTIONS OR EGG OWNER WHO ADMITS CONTROLLING 72,000,000

CHICAGO, Nov. 23. — United States District Attorney Charles Clyne received word from Washington Thursday to investigate the transactions of James E. Wetz, who admits having a gigantic corner on eggs here. Wetz said he knew the terms of the Sherman anti-trust law too well to be caught by it and said he was confident he had violated no laws.

Wetz may find his throne tottering when United States District Attorney Charles Clyne finishes his food probe.

Wetz, after admitting that he controlled 72,000,000 eggs, and could swing the price as he saw fit, said: "Well, what are they going to do about it?"

"Last year the public said I was a fool for speculating in eggs," said Wetz, "and this year I am called a criminal. Did anyone accuse me of being a manipulator last year when I got stung along with the rest?"

Wetz bought most of his eggs last spring. The 6,000,000 dozens were bought at an average price of twenty cents. The average wholesale price today is forty cents. His book profit today is more than $1,000,000.

NOTICE TO BRICK LAYERS AND STONE MASONS

There will be a special meeting Friday, Nov. 24th, at 8 o'clock P. M. Important business. Every member must be present. By order of

WM. WERNER,
President.

ROADS CAN NOW BE CLOSED TO TRUCKS IN SPRING

It now lies in the power of the county state aid road and bridge committee to close certain county highways to heavy automobile trucks during the early spring.

A resolution, drawn up by District Attorney Otto Schlabach, and presented to the board by Supervisor A. N. Moore, of Onalaska, was adopted. The resolution gives the road committeemen the right to close roads against the use of trucks during the season when frost is coming out of the ground. It is maintained that great harm is done the roads during the spring by the wheels of weighty truck machines.

Members of the board demanded that the district attorney be consulted. They were advised by Supervisor Moore that he had drawn the original bill.

LUDWIG STELLNER DEAD IN BERGEN

Ludwig Stellner, aged 91, a resident of the town of Bergen, Vernon county, just outside the village of Stoddard for many years, died at 5 o'clock Thursday morning after an illness of only a few days. Death resulted from old age.

Mr. Stellner was born in Germany July 14, 1825. When a young man he came to America. The greater part of his life has been spent in Wisconsin. Surviving are a widow three sons and two daughters. They are Charles Stellner, Stoddard; Herman and John Stellner, Aberdeen, South Dakota, Mrs. Herman Miller, town of Bergen, and Mrs. Charles Parsch, Fenwood, Wis.

Funeral services will be held from the residence at 1:30 Sunday afternoon and at 2 o'clock from the German Lutheran church in Stoddard. The Rev. Pallechek will officiate. Interment will be made in the Lutheran cemetery near Stoddard.

MACADAM ASSURED FOR HOKAH ROAD

Macadamizing of the La Crescent-Hokah road, subject of controversy in Houston county for years, seems assured with the appropriation of $8,000 by the state and $4,000 by the county for the project. The road is approximately five miles long. La Crescent residents attribute the successful outcome largely to the work of County Commissioner Helm.

This is Pay Day For Bettors Who Backed President

Thursday, November 23, is "skidoo day" for some thousands of dollars of republican money posted before the election of November 7. Stakeholders who have been holding the money pending the final decision of the election began paying the wagers on Thursday morning, with the announcement that Charles Evans Hughes has sent his telegram of congratulation to President Wilson.

Nearly $10,000, it is estimated, has been held up by local stakeholders, awaiting Mr. Hughes' concession of defeat.

Cured His RUPTURE

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation, if you write to me, Eugene M. Pullen, Carpenter, 7880 Marcellus Avenue, Manasquan, N. J. Better cut out this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.

COUNTY BOARD IS NEARING END OF A LONG SESSION

Road Recommendations for 1917 Are Finished and Work of Preparing Budget Under Way

MEET FEDERAL AID SUM

Fifteen Thousand Dollars Appropriated for Trunk System Highway to Meet National Sum

With the county board road committee finishing its long list of recommendations at Thursday morning's session of the supervisors, the finance committee swung into preparations for the annual budget of county expenses. From the outlook at present, it is expected that the board will finish its work by Friday afternoon, at the latest.

The sum of $46,850 will probably be placed in the budget as the expenses for county roads next year. The sum of $9,350 is asked for machinery and equipment, including a new road truck, $800 is asked for surveying, $15,000 for oiling and repairing of roads, $10,000 for the rebuilding of Irish Hill and $11,700 for re-macadamizing Mormon Coulee road.

Meet Federal Aid

Fifteen thousand dollars was appropriated by the supervisors for roads in the county which will be built with funds from the recently passed federal aid for roads fund, of which $128,361 is available for the state of Wisconsin during 1917. If the amount appropriated here is expended, it will probably go into the trunk road to the city of Milwaukee, and the proposed state trunk system of roads connecting important cities.

Supervisor Joseph J. Verchota, author of a resolution which proposes a second causeway between the north and south sides of La Crosse, introduced his second resolution touching on the matter of a new connecting road, in Thursday morning's session. Supervisor Verchota now proposes to have the county board and the city council investigate the feasibility of the matter together. Mr. Verchota's first resolution was referred to the city council.

Propose Investigation

A resolution introduced by Supervisor Verchota, proposing an investigation of wages and conditions of La Crosse county road workmen, was adopted.

La Crosse county's share of repairing the Clinton street bridge across Black river will be $250. A like sum will be raised by the town of Campbell, and $500 will be raised by the city of La Crosse. While City Engineer George Bradish's estimate of the repairs was $640, the county dads took the stand that a sufficient sum to cover a larger cost, ought to be set aside in the beginning.

A resolution to increase the salary of Registrar in Probate John Coseley from $1,000 to $1,100 was lost in the board, following a hot debate by the vote of sixteen to seventeen.

Allow State Aid

The county board will allow various townships and villages their request for the combined sum of $30,600 for state aid for their highways. With the sum of $12,009.58 available from state funds for state aid for roads for this county, the county board is forced to make up a deficit of $18,590.42.

School Estimate

It will cost $40,620.08 to operate La Crosse county schools during 1917, according to the estimate presented to the county board of supervisors.

The sum will be placed in the annual county budget as the expenses of county schools 1917.

The amount is divided among the villages and townships and the cities of La Crosse and Onalaska as follows:

Bangor, $654.16; Bangor village, $506.16; Barre, $559.44; Burns, $1,130.72; Campbell, $1,127.76; Farmington, $1,681.28; Greenfield, $624.56; Hamilton, $893.92; Holland, $1,074.44; Onalaska, $967.72; Shelby, $970.88; Washington, $944.25; West Salem, $586.08; La Crosse, $28,019.36; Onalaska city, $876.10.

MAN AND WIFE ARE CHARGED WITH COAT THEFT

Charged with the theft of a coat belonging to Miss Vida Hildebrand, an employe of the Doerflinger store, Mr. and Mrs. James B. Sloane, 514 Perry street, were taken into county court for arraignment Thursday afternoon.

Miss Hildebrand recovered her coat at the Sloane home, after following Mrs. Sloane home when she saw her wearing the garment, the girl told the police. Mr. and Mrs. Sloane declare that the coat was purchased from a man they did not know.

The coat was stolen from a cloak room in the store.

GERMAN CAMPAIGN OF FRIGHTFULNESS SEEN BY BRITISH

Submarine Warfare Consideration, Belgian Deportation and Brittannic Affair Lead to Belief

ATHENS BLAMES TORPEDO

Nothing Else Than German Submarine Sank Huge Hospital Ship, Greek Dispatches Say

LONDON, Nov. 23.—With new details of the sinking of the hospital ship received, making it appear certain the greatest British ship afloat was the victim of a Teuton submarine, press and public alike Th rsday united in bitter condemnation of what was termed another example of German "frightfulness."

One belief which found a number of supporters was that Germany is starting out on a new campaign of "frightfulness." Frequent reports from Germany have indicated consideration by the government of resumption of an unlimited submarine warfare. The deploration of Belgian citizens is already being carried out despite intercessions by most of the nations of the civilized world. Then came the torpedoing of the hospital ship.

It was pointed out here that there could be no mistaking the character of the Britannic. No submarine commander could have failed to identify the ship, not only from the fact that she carried the usual hospital emblems, but because she was the biggest ship of her kind in the world. That the vessel was, therefore the victim of a deliberate attack was the verdict here.

The admiralty did not add anything further Thursday to its formal statement of Wednesday that the great ship was sunk by a mine or torpedo with a loss of fifty lives. Athens dispatches, however, seemed to dispose of all doubt that the ocean leviathan had been destroyed by anything but a German torpedo. Considering the large number aboard at the time surprise was expressed here that there was such a small fatality list. The Britannic, however, was known to be one of the most thoroughly equipped of all passenger liners.

Accounts differ as to the number the Britannic had abandoned, or in which direction she was proceeding when the explosion occurred.

Survivors were landed at various Greek cities.

The admiralty was silent Thursday either in confirmation or denial of a detailed story from Athens, printed in the Daily Chronicle, asserting that two Teutonic submarines lay in wait for the Britannic and that both simultaneously fired torpedoes at opposite sides of the giant vessel. One of these it was said missed its mark but the other struck.

In an additional statement Thursday the admiralty asserted that the Brittanic carried no wounded and those aboard were only the regular crew and the hospital staff.

ATHENS, Nov. 23.—The British hospital ship Britannic sank in three hundred feet of water in the Zea channel, according to reports here. Two of the injured, brought here for attention, died in the hospital Thursday.

MANY PASTORS AT VORNHOLT BURIAL

German Reformed pastors of Wisconsin, Minnesota and Ohio attended the funeral on Tuesday of Rev. Edward Vornholt, pastor of the St. John's Reformed church, Fourth and Market streets, who died November 14 in a Milwaukee hospital.

Rev. G. D. Ellike, New Glarus, Wis., officiated, assisted by Rev. George Ulrich, Burr Oak, Ia.; Rev. Henry Andreas, Mormon Coulee; Rev. Stuebe, Ludlow, Ia.; Rev. Flederjohn, Waukon, Ia.; and Rev. Bloemker, New Bremen, Ohio.

The children of the Sunday school of the church took a prominent part in the services. Simple rites marked the burial in Oak Grove cemetery.

SLIPS—BREAKS LEG

James Wheatland, whose home, he said, is in Ireland, suffered a painful fracture of the ankle by a slip on the icy pavement of Mill street Wednesday night. Wheatland was picked up by the police at 4 o'clock Thursday morning and taken to St. Francis hospital, where his injury was cared for by Dr. R. E. Flynn.

WAIFS TO ST. PAUL HOMES

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 23.—One carload consignment of dimpled pink babies arrived on Thursday. Fifty pair of baby eyes peeped from the window of a Pullman car that slid into the union station, while several Twin Cities men and women waited for the kiddies. They were New York foundling waifs, brought to the northwest to secure homes.

FOOTBALLERS OF HIGH EAT CHICKEN

Football practice was waived at the high school Thursday afternoon. The players, managers and coaches were to repair to Stephan's for a chicken dinner. A light signal-practice was scheduled for Friday. The team leaves Saturday morning for St. Paul to meet Central high of that city.

An offer from Englewood high of Chicago, prep champions of Chicago, was received in the morning mail for a Thanksgiving game, either here or in Chicago. Englewood was to play Everett high of Cambridge, Mass., but the eastern team cancelled the game because of a poor season. The offer has been turned down, however, as La Crosse on Turkey day plays Edgerton for the state title.

Eddie Samp, former Badger footballer and crew man, will referee the Edgerton game, it is announced. He will be assisted by Pottinger, Wisconsin, umpire; Chase, North Dakota, field judge; and Jefferson, Wisconsin, head linesman.

There will be no curtain raiser to the game, Faculty Manager Layton Gouldin announced, it being considered impracticable.

People seldom tell you how much or how little they think of you.

PREPAREDNESS ADVISABLE

Health and strength are two things that are taken as a matter of course and are not appreciated until the fear of losing them overtakes us. We take all sort of chances with our delicate organism and cannot understand why we should have to pay for this liberty when nature calls a halt on her overwork assistants.

J. J. Barrett, 15 S. Marr street, Fond du Lac, had been traveling along at top speed, thinking nature would take care of herself. But gradually he began to feel warning signals to which he paid very little attention until they became so insistant they could not be ignored.

He says: "I lost my appetite and began to feel fatigued easily. I noticed my stomach did not digest my food properly and stomach worries resulted from this. My back would ache at times. My main trouble seemed to be that I couldn't eat anything. I was nervous and irritable and would lie awake at night counting the strokes of the clock as the hours rolled by.

"I have taken one bottle of the remedy and feel such a splendid improvement that I am going to keep on with the treatment. My appetite is improving steadily. My stomach does not give me the worry it did. I find I can sleep better and feel rested in the morning."

Body Becomes Starved

"Food lies on the stomach heavy, soggy and can't dissolve. It certainly rots and becomes poisonous. Gases form, the condition of the stomach prevents digestion and the body is virtually starved," was the comment of the Tanlac Man. He resumed:

"I know from numerous instances that Tanlac will tone up the digestive organs and put the stomach in a healthy, normal condition."

Tanlac can be obtained here only from C. A. Begun's Drug Store.

Tanlac can also be obtained from Geo. H. Seidel at Sparta; G. C. Groezinger at Bangor.

SAYS MATHEWSON IS TO SUCCEED GARRY HERRMANN

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The New York Sun declared Thursday that Christy Mathewson, now manager of the Cincinnati National league club, may be made president of that club to succeed Garry Herrmann. Herrmann, it is said, was expected to retire in order to become a neutral chairman of the national commission.

SAYS INCREASE IN ROAD FACILITIES WOULD HIT HIGH COST OF LIVING

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—An increase of the nation's transportation facilities would help shatter the high cost of living, A. P. Thom, counsel for the railroads, told the Newlands congressional railroad investigating committee Thursday.

Thom argued that the railroads now are under a burden which prevents successful marketing of their securities and a consequent lack of development.

As for the high cost of living, he declared:

"There has been less than 1,000 miles of new railroad constructed in the United States during the past year. This is less than any year since 1848 except the period of the civil war, and yet the cost of living is daily advancing owing to a shortage of supplies. This might be remedied by securing access to new areas of production. Railroad facilities must grow if the commerce of the country is to grow, and all men of affairs recognize that this requires constant influx of new money."

ROB BANK OF $11,400

HUGO, Okla., Nov. 23.—Three bandits held up the First National bank at Boswell late Wednesday and escaped with $11,400 in cash.

Quick Way to End Coughs, Colds and Croup

An Excellent, Inexpensive Home-Made Remedy that is Prompt and Sure.

If you have a severe cough or chest cold accompanied with soreness, throat tickle, hoarseness, or difficult breathing, or if your child wakes up during the night with croup and you want quick help, just try this pleasant tasting home-made cough remedy. Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth). Pour this into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Thus prepared, you have a pint of really remarkable cough remedy—one that can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief at all times.

You can feel this take hold of a cough in a way that means business. It loosens and raises the phlegm, stops throat tickle and soothes and heals the irritated membranes that line the throat and bronchial tubes with such promptness, ease and certainty that it is really astonishing.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, combined with guaiacol and is noted for its speed in overcoming severe coughs, throat and chest colds. Its millions of enthusiastic users have made it famous the world over.

There are many worthless imitations of this noted mixture. To avoid disappointment, ask for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

LARGE FIRE LOSS NEAR LANESBORO BARN IS DESTROYED

LANESBORO, Minn.—(Special.)—The large barn on the farm of Arthur Ward south of Lanesboro, was totally destroyed by fire last week. Ten fine horses were trapped in the blazing building and burned to death and two more were so badly burned that it was necessary to shoot them to end their misery. With the barn and horses there was also destroyed the entire hay crop, five thousand bushels of oats, all the harnesses and a great deal of fine machinery. The barn a structure 100x36 feet in dimension, was insured for $1,200, with a small insurance upon the horses. The origin of the fire is a mystery, as no one had been smoking around the barn, the habit being forbidden. It is believed by some that the blaze must have started by mice gnawing a box of matches which were sometimes left in the barn; this, however, is but a conjecture.

Mrs. Melgaard Dies

Mrs. Anna Melgaard, who passed away at her home in Lanesboro a short time ago, was born in Levanger, Norway, March 29, 1848. She was married to Ole Melgaard in 1876 and three years after, came to America, Lanesboro being their home for the ten succeeding years; the family then moving to a farm north of this place. Mr. Melgaard died fifteen years ago and of the four children given them, one alone now survives, a son. One grandson also survives.

Cupid Wins Again

Another Lanesboro young lady has been won by Cupid's darts; Miss Gunhild Skrukrud becoming the bride of Anton Kolstad, of Root Prairie recently. The marriage took place at the Root Prairie home of the bride's mother, Mrs. E. K. Skrukrud and was attended by relatives and intimate friends, only. Rev. N. A. Giere officiated at the ceremony.

The TRIBUNE'S Daily Short Story

What Else Could They Do?

BY ELIZABETH SHIELDS

(Copyright, 1916, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

It was just a country road, dusty and crooked. A tiny brook lazily flowed along on one side of it and a jungle of dense green banked the other. A tumbled rail fence divided the brook from the road. Everywhere the ground was covered with leaves in every beautiful autumn shade of yellow, red and brown. The still, sweet-scented air was unbroken by even the song of a bird. But mingled with the gurgling melody of the brook, was the sound of a young girl's sobs.

A gaily colored sweater and woolen cap hung over the rail fence. A girl, slender and pretty, leaned wearily against the fence. The wind blew her soft blonde hair wildly about her delicately tanned cheeks. Tears splashed over her eyelashes, leaving traces in the powder on her cheeks. She did not notice the saucy little gray squirrel that scampered over her, for all the world as if she were part of the scenery.

Wiping the tears away, Myra slowly pulled on the gay green sweater and adjusted the woolen cap. With eyes bright and little head high, she turned toward the hill. Panting and breathless she hurried on to the little white house at the top. This road led directly from the little house occupied by Roland Jackson and his father, on the hilltop, to the small country estate of Mrs. Harris Harvey and her daughter, Myra.

Each morning for three days Myra had waited, at the bend of the road, where the brook formed in miniature falls, for Roland Jackson to come down the hillside. But Roland did not come.

When Myra and her mother rented the house in the farming section of Essex, they expected to remain only till late in September. But the red and golden days of October came and passed and they still lingered in the large, old house far back from the road, sheltered by avenues of tall tulip trees. Most of Myra's walking hours were spent watching the hill, waiting for the tall form of Roland to come along on his way to her house. With Roland as guide and teacher, Myra found a joy and beauty in nature of which she had only been vaguely aware before. The call of the city had never before failed in its appeal to Myra, but it did not reach her now.

As she trudged up the hill her mind flew to the events of her stay in the country, and she went white as she recalled and reviewed the last morning she had spent with Roland. The habits of a lifetime in the city had swayed her completely that morning, when Roland asked her to share his little hut on the hilltop. She had weighed the man by the flattest of standards. With the lofty airs of girlhood, she had heedlessly thrown away her chance for a lifetime of happiness there in the hills with just a creature of the wild hills and fields.

Not being versed in the ways of woman, knowing nothing of their inconsistencies, Roland could not know that the next morning, Myra, after a wretchedly wakeful night, awaked no longer a laughing girl, but a woman, with a woman's desire for her man. After waiting three days for Roland to come to her, Myra went to him. As each step brought her nearer him she realized anew how deeply she had wounded him when she shuddered at the thought of herself as queen of his lonely little home in the hills!

Coming out of a patch of dense woods, Myra turned into the lane that led to the Jackson house. Roland saw her through the trees and coming towards her with outstretched arms, his eyes smiled into hers with simple, happy confidence in her love for him. So, with the beginning of the love of Roland and Myra, began the days of sorrow and much confusion for Roland's father and Myra's mother.

Mrs. Harvey went about with quivering lips and red-rimmed eyes. She declared that nothing in the wide world could separate her from her only child, and in the same breath informed Myra that no power under the heavens could induce her to settle down to a life in the wild farming country. It was difficult for Myra. She loved her mother and could plan no future life without her.

One day Roland came to Myra and taking her in his arms whispered, in tragic voice, that his father was wasting away before his very eyes! He confessed that his father pointedly ignored their approaching marriage and with the passing of each day the older man grew more unyielding and sad.

Secretly Myra and Roland planned a Thanksgiving wedding. Myra hoped it would snow. She wanted to be a bride when all the world was white with the first snow of the season. But mid-day in early November was still warm enough for Myra to curl up in the sunniest spot on the side of the hill on a pile of dry leaves, with Roland stretched out at her feet. He contemplated Myra with serious brown eyes

"It's selfishness, dear, I know, but dad walks about with his head sagging and talks to me in such a hopeless way of being left alone!"

Myra shuddered. "Mother treats me as if I were condemning her to life in a prison cell."

"We'll elope," cried Roland.

"It's the only way," assented Myra.

Thereafter so deeply absorbed were they in their plans to run away on the eve of Thanksgiving to the little parsonage in the village and return married, that the complaints of Myra's mother and the gloominess of Roland's father affected them not at all. The solace Mrs. Harvey found in telling Mr. Jackson about the utter lack of consideration daughters accorded mothers in those days, and the comfort he extracted from discussions with her on the neglectfulness of sons passed entirely unnoticed by their children.

Early dusk was falling on Thanksgiving eve, when Myra, wrapped in a long gray motor coat, with a scarf about her head, slipped out of the house into the shadow of the trees. She stole quietly down the path, expecting to slip into the waiting machine, pick up Roland down the road and then ride into the village. Half way to the gate she stopped and listened. Scampering behind her came the sound of a light footfall—a woman's step. Her mother! Her little figure rigid, a stubborn light shot into her wide brown eyes and Myra dodged breathlessly behind a hedge. She heard her mother's footsteps slacken, then stealthily hurry on. A bit farther on her mother turned and looked back at the house, then she crept silently along. Myra fell limply against the hedge. What could be wrong with her mother?

Two reasons suggested themselves to Myra for her mother's appearance. Overwrought nerves was sending her out in the dark, lonely night, or she was on Myra's trail! Then in the still night came the whir of the automobile going down the road. Myra gasped as the sound grew fainter. Stealing out of the shadow of the hedge she made her way to the gate. She could arrive at no solution about the queer actions of her mother. Then Roland came to her. His eyes were aglow with happiness. He gathered her in his arms.

"Everything is settled, darling," he told her. "We'll live up yonder and they'll live here!"

"Who'll live where?" gasped puzzled Myra.

"Your mother and dad!" Roland beamed. "Just discovered them eloping in your mother's big red car!"

$300,000 FOR MEDIC SCHOOL

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "loggy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. 10c and 25c a box. All druggists.

TODAY'S BEAUTY TALK

You can make a delightful shampoo with very little effort and for a very trifling cost, if you get from your druggist a package of canthrox and dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. Your shampoo is now ready. Just pour a little at a time on the scalp and rub briskly. This creates an abundance of thick, white lather that thoroughly dissolves and removes the dandruff, excess oil and dirt. After rinsing, the hair dries quickly, with a fluffiness that makes it seem heavier than it is, and takes on a rich luster and a softness that makes arranging it a pleasure.

MAUSTON DISTRICT ATTORNEY DINES COUNTY FATHERS

MAUSTON, Wis. — (Special.) — District Attorney Clinton G. Price extended a special invitation to dinner on Wednesday to the city officials, the county officials and the county board members. The banquet was held at the Hotel Mauston and attended by all of the members of the three organizations. There were some forty guests. All did ample justice to the "goodies" that efficiently served. All reported it as one good time. Short talks were given.

Dies in City

Patrick Morrissey of Minneapolis, Minn., formerly a resident of Mauston died in Minneapolis last Sunday. His remains were brought to Lyndon Station for burial on Wednesday. The esteemed old gentleman was 78 years lod. He had been a resident of Juneau county for a large number of years. At first he lived on a farm near Lyndon. Later he moved to Mauston where he resided a few years. About three years ago he moved to Minneapolis to be with his children.

Mr. Morrissey was a veteran of the Civil War. He was a well-met and congenial man. His many friends regret the loss of such as he. This was shown by the large number that crowded St. Mary's church at Lyndon Wednesday.

Among those from this city who attended were Mrs. Michael Timbers, Mrs. P. J. Powers and Mr. and Mrs. Milo Galvin.

Local and Personal

Some of the hunters of this city who were up in the north woods in quest of deer have come home disappointed. Among them were: F. W. Klinker, Ed Armstrong and Charles Behnken. Dan J. Smith shot one and for a day thought it to be lost in transit but it finally appeared on his front door step. Dan was a happy man then. It had been carried by to Portage on train No. 2. It returned on 55 the next morning.

Income Assessor, R. B. Wood of Adams was a business caller on Tuesday.

C. C. Benneth of Kilbourn was called back to the city on business matters in circuit court on Tuesday.

John G. Stock of Madison was a business caller on Wednesday.

A. C. Williard of Necedah was in the city on Wednesday.

H. J. Skinner of Tomah called on his daughter Miss Vera on Wednesday. He met his brother J. H. as well.

Harry Barney of Terney, N. D., a former Mauston boy, has come to visit his parents for an extended stay.

YOU probably realize the change that two years have made among tobacco users. Hundreds of W-B CUT users waited months before they were willing to try it. Changing from one old kind of tobacco to another never seemed to improve matters. SPARTA BODY IN PETITION TO BOARD FOR BETTER ROADS

SPARTA, Wis. — (Special.)—The advancement association is agitating the "Good Roads" movement again this fall and is bending every energy for a betterment in the condition of county highways.

Their interests and attentions are being especially directed at present toward a stretch of road extending from the farm of John Pentario, west to the La Crosse county line. The hill in this particular locality is in terrible condition and at times almost impassable. There is a large number of farmers living in this vicinity, who are taking their product to Bangor markets, because it is impossible to get over this hill with a load, thus depriving the Sparta merchants of trade that would otherwise come here.

A local physician was called to make a trip over the hill recently, and said afterwards it was a mystery to him how he ever accomplished it.

The advancement association is putting forth every effort to start a movement for the improvement of this road, in fact, they passed a resolution upon it, which was duly mailed to the town chairman and a petition has also been made to the pathmaster that something be done about this stretch of road. The association asks that every one help push the matter along, as its neglect means a loss of trade to Sparta merchants every day.

Bachellor Lectures

The celebrated Irving Bachellor lectured last evening in the Armory to a full house. His pleasing personality and commanding way held the sympathetic attention of his audience from start to finish. At the request of his hearers he spoke on his book, "Keeping Up With Lizzie," which though full of wit and humor, has a serious strain and is intended to be uplifting, giving people higher ideals of living than just keeping up with their neighbors, or going beyond their means to get ahead of them. He said woman's greatest pleasure should be found in the home with the children and doing the work in the home.

Sells Liquor—Fined

A case of liquor selling in the town of Little Falls, which is dry, led to the arrest of Frank Young, who lives there. He was brought to Sparta before Justice Lamson and was fined $50 and costs, which he paid.

Sale and Lunch

The ladies of the Catholic church will have a parcel post sale, a candy and apron sale Thursday, November 23, at the old postoffice in the Teasdale building. W. C. T. U.

The W. C. T. U. met this afternoon in Temple hall at 3 o'clock. The topic discussed was "Alcohol and Health." Mrs. Forbes was leader. After the regular meeting the Reds treated the Blues, who were the winners in the membership contest.

Moves Business

The Holden Millinery have moved their establishment into the Grossman building on South Water street.

Club Meets

The Literary club and a large company of invited guests enjoyed a pleasant musical evening Monday at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Brown at the state school.

Parents-Teachers Meet

The Sparta Woman's Federation will give the third of the series of parents-teachers' sociables at the city hall Monday afternoon, November 27, at 3:30 o'clock. The invitation is extended to all parents and teachers of children in the grade schools. A short program will be given and the subject discussed in previous meetings, "How the Teachers May Help in the Home" will be again taken up. Several topics of general interest and helpfulness will be discussed, after which all will enjoy a social hour.

Lodge Work

Master Masons had third degree work at their meeting held Tuesday evening in Masonic hall.

New Club House

A new club house is being built at Spring Bank Park, a summer resort east of here, where many Sparta people camp or rent cottages during the hot weather.

DANE COUNTY BOARD REBELS AT CUSTOM

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 23.—Other evidences that "insurgency" is rampant in Dane county aside from the fact that it is the home of Senator La Follette and also of Congressman John M. Nelson, who waged a fight against the rules of the house of representatives a few years ago, is found in the fact that the Dane county board of supervisors is "insurging." For forty years it has been the custom of the board to allow the chairman of the board to appoint the committees. Now the whole arrangement is to be changed. After a fight through several sessions of the board it has been agreed that the committees of the board shall be made up by a committee on committees, the membership of which is to be made by election by the whole board.

BRITISH OFFICER NOW DOESN'T NEED TO RAISE A THATCH ON HIS LIP

LONDON, Nov. 7.—(By Mail.) — And it came to pass that those in command of England's new army relented, saying: "wherefore we have made burthensome the lives of our younger officers in that we require adornment of the upper lip, let there be modification of our order leaving to the discretion of the wearer the matter of facial decoration."

Perhaps not in those words, but somewhat in that manner, the famous order requiring British officers to wear mustaches has been placed among the relics of the world war. Originally paragraph 1,696 of the King's Regulations read as follows:

"The hair of the head will be kept short and the chin and under lip will be shaved but not the upperlip. Whiskers, if worn, will be of moderate length."

From this ukase have been stricken the words "but not the upper lip." Hence, the British officer today may or may not cultivate a mustache according to his own inclination or that of his wife or sweetheart. But here is where the rub comes in—the chin and under lip must be shaven. Those desiring a beard are forced to grow either a Dundreary or mutton-chops, neither of which is considered becoming.

On the memorable day when the mustache order was modified, barber shops looked like recruiting offices. Youthful lieutenants whose efforts of months had produced nothing but a fuzzy shadow and whose usual apologetic order to the barber was, "just let the upper lip alone," dashed in and impatiently awaited their turn to say, "shave that damned thing off."

DERBY SAYS PROPOSALS FOR PEACE TO BE TAKEN FOR CONSIDERATION

LONDON, Nov. 23.—Discussing peace with a group of American newspaper correspondents on Wednesday, Lord Derby declared that any proposal from Germany at this time would be met with the consideration of its worth. He added that "any proposal giving up what we are fighting for will not be considered for an instant," and that England's position still is exactly as Lloyd George outlined in his recent interview with the United Press.

What is Castoria

CASTORIA is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic, all Teething Troubles and Diarrhœa. It regulates the Stomach and Bowels, assimilates the Food, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher, and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Foreign Markets

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The slump on the Stock exchange in shares which have led the market for weeks, continued at the opening Thursday.

Utah Copper sold down 1¼ to 121; Republic Steel broke 1¾ to 86½; American Writing Paper pfd. was down 1⅛ at 67, and International Paper lost 1¼, selling at 63.

Lackawanna Steel was an exception among the leaders, advancing 1¼ to 101¾. United States Steel opened at 125 to 125 ¼ against 125½ at the close Wednesday. The general list was irregular.

After selling down to 124 1-2 Steel recovered to 125 1-8 at one o'clock on 265,000 shares in trading in a million-share market. Leather stocks were strong, while equipment issues slumped off.

The market closed weak.

Chicago Grain Review

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—Liberal selling followed talk of embargoes, caused a decline in wheat Thursday after a high opening, due to good commission house buying. December was down below the opening 2⅛c at $1.82⅛; May down 1⅜c at $1.88⅛; July down 1¾c at $1.57¾.

Corn opened higher on a rush to buy, but fell off in the reaction that followed. December was down 1⅞c at 93⅞c; May down 1¼c at 96½c; July down 1⅜c at 96⅛c.

Oats were slightly lower. December was down ½c at 57⅜c; May down ⅝c at 67⅞c.

Provisions were steady.

EDGERTON GAME WON'T INTERFERE WITH TURKEY FEED

The Thanksgiving championship football game between La Crosse and Edgerton here will not interfere with your turkey dinner. Arrangements have been made that both those who have the annual turkey at noon and those who have it in the evening will be accommodated. The game will be called at 2:45.

MURKY WEATHER DAMPENS HOPES OF NORTHWESTERN

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—Prospects for continued murky weather worried Purple fans here Thursday. Northwestern has not had to handle a slippery ball this season, nor run on a mushy field.

If Murphy's men have these things to contend with against Ohio State at Columbus Saturday it may go hard against the Chicagoans.

However, it is figured that the Ohioans will have little or no edge on the Purple from this score, except the advantage of a heavier line. The Evanston backs are practically duplicates of the Buckeye back-field except Brightmire at quarter who is somewhat lighter. A rainy day will make line work necessary and probably will do away with forward passes on which both teams are strong.

VON JAGOW WILL RETIRE BECAUSE OF ILL HEALTH

BERLIN, via Sayville Wireless, Nov. 23.—The official press bureau on Wednesday announced: "The state secretary for the foreign office, Gottlieb von Jagow, intends to resign for reasons of ill-health. Appointment of Under-Secretary Zimmerman as his successor is expected."

180,000 BUSHELS OF ARGENTINE WHEAT LANDED AT GALVESTON

GALVESTON, Tex., Nov. 23.—The American steamer Ausable arrived here Wednesday afternoon from Buenos Aires, with 180,000 bushels of Argentine wheat aboard. Captain Knipers reported several other steamers there loading wheat for American ports.

WALL STREET LOOKS FORWARD TO GREATEST CHRISTMAS OF HISTORY

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Two full months during which stock exchange trading has averaged above a million shares a day, $129 Steel common, twenty-one cent cotton in the greatest market the cotton exchange has known since the Daniel Sully pool operations and record trading on the curb insure Wall street the most prosperous Christmas the present generation on the street has ever known.

Not since the trust forming days of 1901 has money flown so freely into what has become the speculative center of the world. In volumes of business and in easy-to-spend millions pouring into the pockets of brokers and speculators the present movement far exceeds the more spectacular "war bride" market of 1915.

Employes of the financial district are looking forward to the most liberal Christmas bonus checks in years, while brokers and speculators alike are again sealing deals with champagne and adding to the gaiety of the night life of the town.

Seven of the 28 two-million share days of Wall street history were in the present year. As each broker gets about twelve dollars a hundred shares commission on sales and part of this passes on to the telegraph operators, clerks, and other employes at Christmas time, the holiday spirit is on in full force already.

ALASKA RATE HEARING HELD

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—The second of three hearings the interstate commerce commission is holding in its investigation of intra and inter-Alaskan rail, rail-and-water freight and passenger rates was held Thursday at Juneau. The third and last will be at Seattle December 4.

APPLETON, Wis., Nov. 23.—Hurrying to get across the track ahead of an incoming passenger train, Miss Alma Parson, 21, was struck and killed at the Pine Tree crossing here. Her body was hurled for a distance of 50 feet.

Evans Says He Is Not Going To Relinquish Hold On Two National Championships

BY HAMILTON
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—When Chick Evans, the national open and amateur champion, visited New York recently after his triumph at the Merion club, Philadelphia, he told the United Press that in winning the national amateur championship he had vaulted into the highest point of his life's ambition.

"I have reached a point in my game," said Evans, "where it is not necessary for me to break out in a cold sweat whenever I have to swing a long putt to win a hole."

Fact of the matter is that it was just this point—considered the champion's weakest—which enabled him to defeat Robert Gardner for the national title, and which carried him to victory in the open tournament some time earlier. Of course, there were few times when Evans' nerves were strained by the nature of the putts he was forced to make, but the fact that he had lost many matches in his long career as a tournament player through poor putting made his performance stand out.

"I have learned to drive as I never drove before," Evans said. "My mashie shots have improved all summer and I want to say right here that it was with the greatest elation that I finished off the hole which me the title."

Evans several times has been runner-up in national tourneys and has finished there or thereabouts in many high class meets, but the one big plum he was after—the national amateur tournament—always has been just out of his reach.

Evans assured the United Press that if some golfer is to take the championship from him next year he'll have to play some regular championship golf to do it.

"I've got that championship," Evans said, "and I mean to keep it as long as I can."

Most men's intentions are several laps ahead of their actions.

Cobb, Speaker And Johnson Are Greatest Stars

American league records for 1916 show Ty Cobb, Tris Speaker and Walter Johnson are still to be reckoned the greatest stars in baseball. An idea of their brilliant work the past season may be gained from the following figures:

Tris Speaker

He was the leading major league batsman, with an average of .385.

He made the most hits, 210.

He leads in consecutive hitting, with a record of 31 hits in 76 tries for .408, in 21 consecutive games.

Ty Cobb

He scored the most runs, 113.

He leads the base runners with 68 steals.

He leads in getting four hits in a game, accomplishing this trick eight times during the past season.

With four hits for 10 bases, he leads in total bases on hits in a game.

Walter Johnson

He pitched in the most games, 48.

He pitched the most innings, 370.

He struck out the most batsmen, 230.

He allowed more hits than any other pitcher, 291.

He leads the pitchers in runs earned, as he allowed only 1.90 earned runs per 9-inning game.

Nate Lewis, manager of Charlie White, has added Johnny Coulon, the former bantamweight champion, to his stable.

Eddie Murphy, the South Boston boxer who achieved considerable promise a few years ago, is going to return to the ring.

Freddie Welsh is willing to risk his title in a bout with Johnny Kilbane, but he reserves the right to name the terms for the battle.

Lew Rowlands, who recently fought Young Ahearn ten rounds to a draw, is endeavoring to land a match at St. Paul with Tommy Gibbons.

New York learns that Tex Rickard will try to stage a Charlie White-Benny Leonard match in Madison Square garden on Thanksgiving night.

The fact that nearly all the National league contracts recently promulgated are only for one year indicates that the day of the long-term contracts for players is over.

Maine and Bowdoin are to lose their football coaches, and there's a possibility that Roger A. Greene, who turned out the championship eleven at Colby, won't sign up for another year.

According to a tip from Washington there is not a chance of Fielder Jones getting Eddie Foster. If ever a ball player was certain of his job, it is the Griffmen's second base star, for his work last season was nothing short of remarkable, he easily outplaying every one of the players who occupied that position in the league, not barring Eddie Collins.

BLACK BACK AND YALE STOCK RISES

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Captain Cupid Black has returned to the Yale eleven and got into the last big practice Thursday before the meeting on Saturday in New Haven with Harvard. Quarterback Travers Smith also is back for duty.

These two developments have had the effect of holding off ten to nine and ten to eight bets that have been made with Harvard on the long end and it now seems that Yale will go into the game an even money choice. There is very little Harvard money to be found at odds which are being quoted.

The Harvard team went through its last practice Wednesday in Cambridge and was to reach New Haven Thursday for a brief drill in the bowl, then to go to New London, where they will stay until Saturday.

Army and Navy also have gone through the final preparations for their big conflict. Thursday only the most simple of signal drills will be given the men.

The Navy backfield will take the field much as it has lined up all season, with Perry, Roberts, Ingram and Welchell ready for duty.

West Point isn't so sure of itself. Lieutenant Dailey has tried several back-field combinations and was still experimenting on Thursday. It is as certain as a thing can be, however, that Oliphant and Vidal will have their places.

USE LEGS FOR KITS

LONDON, Nov. 23.—A wooden leg has its compensations after all. British Tommies wearing artificial limbs use the hollow part for a bit-bag when traveling around England. It has been discovered that the ordinary hollow leg will hold a hair-brush, razor, soap and small bottle.

COOK WITH COAL OR GAS OR BOTH AT ONCE

With the New Combination Two Fuel Range we are showing you can use either coal or gas for cooking, or both at the same time. When you want a warm fire that will thoroughly heat your kitchen and adjoining rooms, burn coal—when you want a quick fire—or a warm weather fire—burn gas. If you want to do a large amount of cooking at the same time, use both coal and gas.

The Combination Two Fuel (Coal and Gas) Range is not a coal range with gas attachment or a gas range with coal attachment, but two separate ranges in one, each operating just as perfectly and economically as a single fuel range of either kind. It takes up no more space and costs but little more than a separate coal range. One simple operation changes it from one fuel to another. A new principle of air circulation makes the bottom of the oven heat as perfectly with coal as with gas.

Come in and let us show you how this new range works and why it is better than any other two fuel range you have seen. Priced from $42.00 to $70.00.
